A Young Japanese Man Visits Other Planets [Part 2] By Hachiro Kubota

Kubota: To become a regular contactee, do we have to be a psychic such as a telepathist or clairvoyant? or a man who has a power of seeing aura?

Harukawa: Well, it is said that the fate of an ascetic devotee is inclined to be unhappy. So a telepathist has to take care because his telepathy sometimes goes wrong and he becomes insane. When Earthmen living on a planet with such low frequencies have too strong a power of telepathy, they are unable to bear the burden. I met some Japanese contactees who complained that they could not live their daily lives easily.

Generally speaking, you have to train hard in order to become an excellent telepathist. Some unfortunate psychics are sometimes killed in automobile accidents or by medicinal poisoning. They die from malignant diseases, and even kill themselves. Therefore, in order to develop telepathy, I thought there might be a method to acquire the ability without all the burdens.

I have been trying to find a good method by studying the ancient Japanese Shinto, Cabala, primitive Christianity, Zoroastrianism, Taoism, and so on. Space people have helped me with it, too. I finally found a basic method to develop the power of mental telepathy to a certain extent. But there is an important point. Although it is easy for you to develop the ability of telepathy, it is important for you to have a high-performance switch in your mind. If your power of telepathy becomes too strong, the switch will not work. Then you will eventually be mad.

To Contact Space People is Hard Work

There are two types of UFO researchers. The first type is a man who contacts space People, and the other a man who does not contact them. To contact them requires hard work. What is more, the contactee will begin to have some trouble mentally. Because the planets have a tremendous civilization beyond description, he will have a very strong sense of emptiness after he has returned to Earth. Space People know the situation well and encourage the contactee by saying "Go to it! You must live on Earth!" Few of the contactees taken aboard their mother ship became good for nothing after such an extreme experience.

Now, I will return to the story of man's preter-natural power. A man who can see aura or possess the memories of his own past lives has a kind of strong animal instinct. So, if he goes in the wrong direction he is liable to lose his reason. Therefore, the man needs to be guided by others. This could also be said for a contactee, and this is why contactees sometimes work together in order to protect themselves against failing. I think a contactee is a person of skeptical disposition at heart. Space People emphasized it and said, "If you did not see our ships to such an extent, you would not have believed them. That is why we had to show you our space ships (scout ships and mother ships)."

But first a man must develop the power of mental telepathy. Anyone should be able to have enough power of telepathy or clairvoyance by having a good feeling or emotion. You should always have a positive way of thinking as much as possible and ignore the negative ones. The positive way of thinking means that "I am sure everything is going well with me!", and the negative one is a pessimistic thought.

When you speak about others, you should try to see the good in them, avoiding their demerits. Then you will be able to get over your strong emotion and obtain psychic power little by little. It is to be desirable that the power comes out slowly. A sudden change is not a desirable thing.

K: Is there a good key to the development of mental telepathy?

H: Oh, yes. There is a good method. It is to produce a pleasant atmosphere around you. You can create it by various means. You might as well sing songs together if you want. It is good to create it. If you begin to practice telepathy by thinking that you are having a jolly good time, you can create a telepathic power faster.

How to have the Power of Seeing Aura

K: Please tell me how to develop the power of seeing aura.

H: There are several methods. First, this is not desirable, but the most effective one. You should see the sun rising in the east every morning. You will be able to create the power of seeing human aura in about a month. But this method will enable the trainee to impair his eyesight extremely, and is too dangerous. Generally a man who can see human aura has bad eyesight. Therefore, you should practice taking care. It is better to prepare a substitute in stead of the sun. Gaze at a crystal ball which has been used from the ancient times. In this case, you should sell an idea to yourself that when you begin to see the ball, the switch in your mind is "on". Sometimes you must turn it off and on, for your eyesight will fail from watching too much aura.

In my own case, a psychic power came out through my eyes at first. I saw blue light on the wall and I wondered what it was. On the other hand, my eyesight failed, so I often practiced to turn it off and on.

There is another substitute for you to practice. Hang a sheet of white paper on the wall of your room, and observe the paper for about 15 minutes every day. Sometimes you see strange visions on the paper, but you may as well continue without minding it. In about a month, prepare a sheet of paper with a black or golden circle on it. See only the inside of the circle by concentrating on your consciousness. Just look at the circle without desiring any vision inside. Continue to do this for about a week. Then shut your eyes. You can see the vision of the golden circle while closing your eyes. Then, visualize any pleasant memory such as beautiful flowers or faces to your liking in the golden circle. When the vision in the circle becomes clear, you now have the power of seeing human aura little by little.

How to see Man's Past Lives

If you want to see your past lives, you should place an intense desire for your past lives in the golden circle painted on a large piece of paper. Close your eyes for about five to ten minutes and then, just picture the inside of the circle being free from all thoughts. First, you will see some scenes of your past lives in fragments, and gradually you will be able to see one perfect scene just like a movie. In my own case, I was able to see my past lives in a week after I began to practice, but it may take a month for the average person to acquire such an ability.

If you do have a strong desire to see your past lives, you will also be able to have the power of clairvoyance. However, you must have a controller of the power in your mind. Without it, the power will come out much too freely like a volcanic eruption. In that case, you may just become half insane.

Anyway, it is very important for you to have a good feeling under a perfect home environment in developing psychic abilities. If you have a family in disorder, and are pursued by uneasiness, you cannot obtain any psychic power. You must have a harmonious family if you truly want to develop psychic powers such as telepathy or clairvoyance.

Balanced Food is Important

Also, it is important for you to have a balanced diet. Often a vegetable diet and that of the meat become a subject of discussion. In fact, living on vegetables does help you to acquire a strong telepathic ability. But to maintain a rational power to control any possible aberrant psychic state, you must eat animal protein to a certain extent as well. You should always have one dish of animal protein food besides four different dishes at your dinner. This is the most balanced meal.

I was told by the space people that we must have three meals a day. I sometimes don't have meals regularly when I am very busy. But if I have meals irregularly, my telepathic ability goes down. A man who has only two meals a day had better have three light ones instead. I even smoke once in a while. Some years ago Japanese people who were studying yoga came to see me. They were all vegetarians. When eating a meal together at my home, they stared me in a queer manner because I was eating some meat. But I don't think eating meat is a sin like they do, because it is a natural cycle to make the most of meat for the human body. We need balanced meals. Some spiritualists think that if they do eat meat, they cannot develop the ability of telepathy. That is not right. [Here, this writer told him about the space people's meals explained in George Adamski's QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. According to his answer, they eat as much fish as Americans eat meat.]

H: Is that so? Fish is good. When I sometimes eat beef or pork, I can feel very terrible frequencies from it if the livestock was killed cruelly. So it is easier to eat fish, I think.

K: What about alcoholic drinks? Is it bad for health?

H: No. Some of them are highly estimated by the space people. They told me that Italian Campali which is often used in making cocktails is very good for your health. On the contrary, Japanese liquor, "sake" is not so good. Malt liquor (beer) is also good for your health if you drink it moderately. The space people said Earthmen seem to know just how much drinking is good for their health from a standpoint of common sense. So they should drink alcohol by judging from their own common sense. Anyway, they did not give me an impression that alcohol is very bad for your health. As for me, I usually don't drink. Rather, the space people advised me, as I have a low blood pressure, that I had better drink it a little.

Space People's Tremendous Ability of Telepathy

[The talk veered around to some space people living in a city of Tokai district in Japan. According to Mr. Harukawa, there are a quite a few space people living in the city, and they are engaging in many kinds of occupations.]

K: They are from other planets, not of this planet. If they want to get a job here on Earth, they need papers which prove their 'identity' as Earthmen. They could write a personal history as they like, but how can they get copies of their family register and other official documents?

H: I don't know how they can get a job. They may know how to do it, but they don't tell me about it. However, they could do it by their tremendous power of supernatural ability.

Long time ago there lived a psychic man named Messing in Soviet. He was told by Stalin to go to a Swiss bank and get thirty thousand francs without a check. "If you could do it, I would believe that your psychic power is authentic." Stalin said. Messing went to the bank and showed a piece of paper to a clerk. By his power of ESP, Messing made him believe that the paper was a check. He came back to Stalin's official residence with a pile of money. As he approached the entrance of the residence, he strongly believed that he is Beria, the Home Secretary. The guards saluted him because he looked just like Beria. He easily entered the residence and put the money in front of Stalin, scaring him out of his wits. Stalin gave him permission to perform his psychic show in the USSR, of course.

Since even an Earthman can do such a thing, it may be a child's play for the space people to get necessary official documents. In other words, that is as easy as pie for them to obtain authentic documents by their wonderful power of telepathy. [It seems that they do not have to forge documents. In his QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS, Adamski says so, too.]

Love All Things, Even Your Money!

K: Adamski says in his books that money does not exist on other highly advanced planets in our solar system. Then, if the space people are using our money from working on Earth, their senses go off their heads, don't they?

H: No, they are using money by looking at it objectively. They have money like we do, but take an objective view and have no real desire for it. They said, "Money is made from wood pulp, and you love trees. So you should love money." I was greatly shocked to hear that.

K: They mean we should love all things including money?

H: I think so.

UFO Photograph Exhibition is Instructive

K: We of GAP-Japan sometimes open UFO Photograph Exhibition in large cities. Do you think it is instructive?

H: Yes, I think that's very good. A photograph has a profound meaning. Suppose there is a UFO picture. When someone looks at it, he has a vision of the UFO in his mind. In this case, there will be a connection between his thought and the real UFO. In other words, there is a connecting line on the level of consciousness between the man who has never seen the real UFO and its occupants. Adamski's UFO photographs are not accepted by orthodox scientists at present. However, there is a definite connections between people who see his UFO pictures and the space people. I think that is why Adamski took so many UFO photographs.

When I went aboard a flying saucer some-time ago, I tried to take a video camera stealthily. But I failed for they could see through my plot at once. I once carried my cassette tape recorder into a saucer. They seemed to have recognized that, but said nothing at the time. But when I returned home from my space trip and played the tape, it just made a sound that went "Boan, boan..." It was a terribly big sound. I think it may have been influenced by the magnetism inside the saucer. The ink of a fountain-pen was spoiled because the ingredients of the ink separated. A ball-point pen I had did not work, either. When you want to carry something to write with into a flying saucer, a pencil is the best of all. A watch gets out of order inside the scout ship. I had a digital wrist watch some years ago, but while I was talking to the space people by telepathy from the ground, I found it went wrong. Generally, when my aura is too strong, watches go wrong, and metal goods break. My cuff-links suddenly fell, once.

Man must have his own 'God'

K: Adamski was very emphatic on the importance of Cosmic Consciousness in his book 'Science of Life'. This is equivalent to the Intelligence or the Power of Creator, or God giving life to all living things. He says, therefore, man's sense mind must unite the cosmic Consciousness of the cosmos.

H: I think so, too. I believe everyone should have God, or Creator, so to say. Whatever he calls it, his fate will be decided whether he has a God or not. This is the point. No matter how man speaks in a lordly manner, there is God above him. As man tries to approach God as much as he can, it is proved that his level of mind is becoming higher. Even though man has all kinds of thoughts in his daily life, he should think of God as the Supreme Being at all times. One of the space people once said to me, "We would like you Earthmen to know the figure of Master we have in mind."

The Tilt of the Axis of Earth is the Expression of Man's Thought

K: By the way, Adamski says in his book that the axis of Earth is tilting. It is true, isn't it?

H: Yes, it is a problem that should be worried about. The axis of Earth is like a barometer of all the Earthmen's thoughts. The inclination of the axis is an expression of whether all life is well by keeping their balance or not. You cannot get the right answer if you study the leaning only with physical methods. The inclination of the axis of Earth means man's thought patterns are becoming confused.

K: You mean the inclination is caused by abnormal thoughts of the Earthmen?

H: That's right. Adamski mentions all the important points in his books. If the inclination becomes normal, it shows that the frequencies of Earthmen are normal, as well. It is very dangerous now for us to live on Earth. But I try to think positively while being aware of the danger. The point is that every man had better change his thought patterns into positive ones such as: "Oh, that's all right. I will keep on doing good for mankind to put the axis in order." "I will live in harmony with the others and live a better life." "I will make a better circumstance of my home. I will maintain meaningful friendships with friends of mine."

Great Spiritual Influence of the Japanese

H: The space people once said to me, "If nearly 10% of the whole population of Japan can sincerely think of man's happiness and contribute to world peace, there will be no more wars! Not 10% of the whole population of the world, but a little under 10% of the Japanese only! They said Japanese people have a greater spiritual influence than any other race in the world."

K: Then, the Japanese are a very special race, aren't they?

H: Yes. In other words, they have the power to change things. For example, Japan is the foremost country of processing trade. It seems to me the Japanese have a key to change things easily. If the Japanese become aware of this and positively believe in it, world peace will be brought to realization.

Like Attracts Like

[Mr. Harukawa has many friends who have supernatural powers such as telepathy and clairvoyance, etc. They are also UFO contactees, a noble group of people trying to develop great powers hidden in a man's subconsciousness, and help others do the same. They are a gathering of people who have cosmic karma, and Mr. Harukawa is their leader.]

H: I hear there are several contactees in our district. Unfortunately some of them failed to become good contactees because they were very suspicious of each other. This led to constant disputes, and the space people finally left them.

K: Did the space people really leave them?
H: Yes. They obey the laws of cosmos. You can say that it is a law of gathering of people who have the same quality. People who have the same nature meet by chance through an act of fate. If the quality changes, people will separate.

K: You mean the law of 'Like attracts like.'?

H: Yes. If you want the space people to come to you, you must have the same quality as the space people's. (To be continued in the next issue)

Questions & Answers

By George Adamski

This Q & A was published by George Adamski in 1957 and send to his co-workers all over the world. This contains much valuable information on UFO issues even now. (Editor, Uc)

Q12: Are space people etherians or spirits living on different planes than we on Earth?

A: No! They are not! They are normal, physical, human beings like you and me. The word "etherian" is confusing, for all Nature is etheric; whether in a form or formless state. The highest understandable manifestations are invisible gases out of which all things are born. Physical form is nothing but a coarser manifestation of these so-called ethers or gases.

For examples: We say our radio and TV messages are coming into our sets on the ether waves. Yet these waves must be slowed down in their frequency before they will become audible to our ears or visible to our eyes. So when the word "ether" is properly understood, you can see it has no reference to spirits or disembodied entities.

Space itself is invisible, yet moving within it are natural bodies in varying degrees of density, activated by the ether waves of space. But according to those who have traveled these ether waves, there are no people, "etherians" or otherwise, living in space itself. All inhabit solid, earth planets very much like our own.

Q13: Why do their ships seem to disappear before our sight at times?

A: For two reasons. One is a change in perspective which makes them appear to suddenly vanish, just as our own planes will apparently disappear before our eyes when they turn at a certain angle. The other is the inability of our eyes to register objects moving at a very high frequency, or rate of speed.

An electric fan makes a very good illustration. When the power is off and the blades are standing still, they are plainly visible to us. Start the fan, increasing the speed slowly, and at first the blades will appear to blur, then run together. When running at a high rate of speed, you can see "through" the fan, yet they are the same solid blades that blocked your vision when the fan stood still. Speed has simply given the illusion of the blades "disappearing". The same thing happens to space ships when they suddenly accelerate their velocity.

Q14: Do they communicate with Earth people through telepathic avenues?

A: Yes, they do. But there is a decided difference between telepathic communications of a universal nature, and the psychic "messages" so commonly received and known to Earth. Until Earth's people become better acquainted with themselves and the operation of their mind, it will be difficult for them to differentiate between information received from a universal source, and that received from the thought forms encompassing our planet. For centuries of human habitation and thinking, along with the emanations from Nature herself, have resulted in vibrations far more real than most people realize. So extreme care must be exercised not to confuse these thought forms and emanations with true telepathic communications.

Q15: How do you explain the many telepathic messages supposedly being received from space people telling us to raise our frequencies, and forecasting dire warnings of things to come?

A: This again, I would say, is the result of such mediums tuning into the thought forms encompassing the Earth, rather than receiving telepathic communications from the space travelers. You will notice names and identifications, such as position and rank, are used by the giver of the messages. As stated in INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, space people use neither position nor name to identify them. These are personality.

Nor do they ever prophecy our future. They may tell us of logical results from continued actions in a certain direction, but they will never set a time. They know an infinite number of conditions can intervene to change the course of events. So I would advise always, a serious questioning of any message, particularly those containing "forecasts" of the future.

Q16: Have genuine communications been established between Earth and the people of other planets?

A: Yes. Most of the communications with Earthlings have been through personal contacts, because we have such little understanding of ourselves and the operation of our minds. But during past years personal meetings have taken place in many nations little by little information about these contacts is now being revealed to the people. Previously, those having such experiences feared to divulge these facts because of the skepticism and ridicule heaped upon them by an uninformed and disbelieving public.

A word of warning though...today there are many imposters walking the streets of Earth, masquerading as space people!

Q17: Why don't the space people land en masse?

A: Because a vast number of Earth's people have not yet been readied for such an event, they naturally fear that which they do not understand, and the resultant panic could create widespread havoc. Remember, while millions accept the reality of the interplanetary visitors, other millions have either never heard of them, or they continue to scoff. and without an understanding of who those people are, and their purpose in coming, their sudden appearance would indeed be terrifying. We judge others by our own yardstick, and as a planet we are still warlike, therefore, it seems incomprehensible to some that more advanced beings are coming to us in freindship, and not to conquer our world.

Official recognition, from both the governments of the world and our religious leaders, could present this truth to the people. The following quote from the American Mercury magazine for July, 1957, P.125, states this fact very nicely with these questions. Quote: "Are Laodicean-type theologians of today able to cope with the spiritual implications of such an event? Or in the governmental sense, what is to happen when international relations become interplanetary relations? What disruptions are to be expected in the social and economical sense?" End quote.

When our spiritual leaders and our governmental officials answer these, and similar questions, recognition of the space people will follow.

Q18: Do they use money as a means of exchange on other planets?

A: No. Their means of exchange is a commodity and service exchange system, without the use of money. All production is for the benefit of everyone, with each receiving according to his needs. And since no medium of exchange such as money is involved, there are no "rich", there are no "poor". But all share equally, working for the common good. This may well be called a system of production for use.

Q19: What is their form of government?

A: Theirs is a planetary government made of a body of representatives elected from every district and every walk of life. The needs of the people are considered impartially by this body, and problems are solved for the common good of all. It is my understanding, there is very little need for legislative control. For with full recognition and adequate recompense for work well done, temptations that a monetary system such as ours presents are completely eliminated.

They have also told me, it is considered a very high honor to be elected to the legislative body. For this gives those chosen the privilege of serving the Creator through serving his children.

Q20: Much has been said about hostile space people and monsters. Do you know of any?

A: This very question has brought fear to the hearts of many, and is responsible for the slowness of our officials in recognizing the interplanetary visions. But even a moment's thoughtful consideration should answer the question for everyone. With their advanced scientific knowledge which enables them to travel space, if these people were hostile could they not have conquered the world long ago? Yet, have they made the slightest move to do so?

Remember, any scientific discovery is a two edged sword. And just as our splitting the atom can be used for peaceful advancement for all mankind, or for the annihilation of our civilization, so could their knowledge of the electromagnetic forces of space. We all know the power they have tapped would make our largest bombs look like dud firecrackers on the 4th of July. Do not these facts adequately answer questions regarding their hostility? To the best of my knowledge, there have been no proven incidents of hostility from space travelers toward the people of Earth.

As for the reported monsters, have you ever seen one of our own jet pilots in full regalia for high altitude flight? He would indeed be an awesome sight to a person who had never heard of an airplane. I think you will find reports of "monsters" were the result of a combination of intense fear caused by the strangeness and nearness of the space craft, and the appearance of an unfamiliar uniform.

To me it is sacrilegious and blasphemous to the Creator to presume we are the images of His being, then promote freaks in His name as inhabitants of other planets. The story of creation is Universal — not confirmed to just our small planet, Earth.

Q21: When will the government release its information about the flying saucers?

A: Officially, this is impossible to predict. But at least one man has now gained sufficient courage to write the following letter to me. It speaks for itself.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

Prof. George Adamski
Star Route
Valley Center
California

My Dear Professor:

For the time being, let us consider this a personal letter and not to be construed as an official communication of the Department. I speak on behalf of only a part of our people here in regard to the controversial matter of the UFO, but I might add that my group has been outspoken in its criticism of official policy.

We have also criticized the self-assumed role of our Air Force in usurping the role of chief investigating agency on the UFO.

Your own experiences will lead you to know already that the Department has done its own research and has been able to arrive at a number of sound conclusions. It will no doubt please you to know that the Department has an file a great deal of confirmatory evidence bearing out your own claims, which, as both of us must realize, are controversial, and have been disputed generally.

While certainly the Department cannot publicly confirm your experiences, it can, I believe, with propriety, encourage your work and your communication of what you sincerely believe should be told to our American public.

In event you are in Washington, I do hope you will stop by for an informal talk. I expect to be away from Washington during the most of February, but should return by the last week of that month.

Sincerely,
(Signed) R.E. STRAITH
R.E. Straith
Cultural Exchange
Committee

This letter was written on paper bearing the eagle watermark and impressed with the official Seal of State.

Since Mr. Straith encourage me to communicate what I "sincerely believe should be told to our American public," I feel free to share this letter. Photostatic copies have been mailed to representatives of groups in other nations.

Q22: What do the Brothers think of Earth's satellites? Was a rocket with a hydrogen bomb head launched by Russia to the moon on November 6, 1956, and destroyed by the brothers' space ship?

A: This is a false rumor. No destructive missiles have as yet been launched by any nation into space.

After booklet #1 was in the hands of the printers, I had another meeting with Orthon and inquired about the satellites. He said that from the minute the first Sputnik reached outer space, there were from six to twenty-four space craft watching it at all times. This accounts for conflicting reports of several "shells" being seen accompanying the satellite. Sputnik number two received the same close observation.

Because at times one of their ships approached the satellite too closely, thereby affecting its movement slightly with the ship's force field, we were told another planet was interfering with the normal movement of the Earth-launched object. This explanation was ridiculous, yet believed by those who did not understand. The satellite was orbiting closer to Earth than to any other planet, so if any planet was to affect its movement, it would have been our own. Bear in mind the vast distances between Earth and even her nearest neighbor, then compare this with the height at which these satellites orbit.

I was told that to date closest observations show only scientific efforts being made toward an ultimate goal of Earth's people also traveling space. And as long as such remains the purpose of any satellite sent spaceward, there will be no interference from the space travelers; for it was in this manner they, too, originally learned interplanetary travel. But should any nation send a destructive missile into space, it would be confiscated and not allowed to accomplish its purpose. Orthon (the name of a Venusian mentioned in Adamski's book INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, Editor, Uc) did not say such an effort had yet been made by an Earthly nation, but he did say it was being considered. He added we would not be allowed to use the moon as a dumping ground for our nuclear waste material.

In reference to the little dog in the second satellite, I was told our progress has not yet passed the place where we can dispense with the use of some kind of form-life for such experimentations. All nations use animals for scientific research. While we may deplore this practice, it is admittedly better than sacrificing human life in the initial tests. Orthon added the dog gave up her life for the benefit of mankind. Surely the little creature rendered a far better service to humanity than we accomplish through the ruthless killings in our wars.

Orthon also said, that had American scientists heeded the information given through me in an article sent to Collier's Magazine for consideration some five years ago (this was submitted at the personal request of a foremost scientist interested in building a space platform), we would have been in space long ago. But the article was returned with a note stating they had their own staff of scientists who did not agree with the information I had given.

Q23: How can I meet a space person and get a ride in one of their ships?

A: I honestly cannot answer this question. Nor, do I believe, can anyone else who has had experiences similar to mine. I am not able to arrange a personal meeting for anyone. I cannot do this even for myself! I am met when and where a meeting is to the advantage or convenience of the Brothers.

At all times, it is up to those from other words to identify themselves. However, I have been told contacts have been made in every nation, and with the leaders of every nation. Their coming and going is no secret to officialdom. This was reported in INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS.

Furthermore, it is a fact untold numbers of Earth's inhabitants have met and even worked with the visitors without being aware of it. Unless some good can be accomplished they do not identify themselves. With the restricting redtape many nations place on travel, such identification could be dangerous. That is why it is well to be skeptical of those who boast to their friends and fellow-workers that they are from another planet. An overwhelming majority of these people are imposters. This warning is given in question 16 of booklet 1.

I can assure you of one thing, the space people are not coming merely to satisfy our personal curiosity. At the present time, I have been told, the best way we can help is by beginning to live with more respect toward one another. For as this is done throughout the world, fear and hostility between the peoples will diminish; leaving a fertile field in which to work for the betterment of all. But final success in this depends upon each individual.

Some scientists, I know, are receiving help from the space people; and many admit what they are "getting" is beyond anything before known or written in our present textbooks. Still, much information must be withheld. Let me refer you to the answer given in #20 of booklet 1.

We have much growing to do before it will be safe for us to be given a full understanding of the natural forces that they have harnessed for propelling their ships. For this same energy can be perverted for terrible destruction as easily as it can be used for the progress of mankind. We must learn to live humbly, respecting our fellow man regardless of his color of skin or position in life. But this is a problem each person, and each nation, must solve individually.

Q24: Do you know why there was such a rash of sightings reported early in November 1957?

A: According to the Brothers, there was a plan being formulated by certain governments to tell their people all UFOs seen during these past years were nothing but Russia's attempts to launch a satellite. This obviously would have been only another attempt to discredit their reality, but it could have raised doubts in the minds of a questioning public. So, within a twenty-four hour period 6,000 space ships were brought in; lowering over every nation on Earth so the people could easily see them.

While there were two Sputniks in space at that time, yet such a show over the entire world was impossible for any nation. as a result, the governments did not release the report.

This display served a dual purpose. Thousands of people have said if something of this sort were to take place, wherein people in every nation saw the ships overhead simultaneously, there could be no question of the reality of other-world craft moving through Earth's atmosphere. So there appearance in such numbers also compiled with this attitude. This was the explanation given to me by the Brothers.

Verification, telling of hundreds and thousands of people seeing the space ships at that time, has come to me from many parts of the world. Remember, too, the published reports of cars being stopped on the highway in Texas during this display? Texas was not alone in this experience. I have received a number of similar accounts from other parts of our nation, but no publicity was given these. There were landings and personal contacts made at that time. Some of these incidents were reported, but, to the best of my knowledge, not publicized.

Q25: Are the space people coming to save us?

A: No! Some people are fostering an erroneous idea that the space people are here to save a "chosen few" in the event of nuclear warfare, or if a disaster should strike. This is a totally false. Should they be in the vicinity when a catastrophe is taking place, they would do their utmost to help if possible; but they are not actually coming our way to save us from conditions into which we have placed ourselves. Each planet, each individual, must fulfill its own destiny by solving its own problems.

The law of brotherhood has been handed down to us through countless ages. They live this law. So were they to save any peoples, it would not be just a "chosen few". It would be all within reach. They would not discriminate. Remember, they do not recognize our racial or religious divisions.

Q26: Have space people helped Earth's inhabitants in any way thus far?

A: Yes. They have helped us in many ways of which we are little aware. To cite but a few: Any of the small conflicts that have plagued the world in recent years could have developed into world-wide destructive wars had it not been for their efforts. And the cold war which has continued for so long could have flared into open hot war had they not intervened in different ways and places.

Besides, they have done much to neutralize the radio-active conditions created in our atmosphere through our bomb testings. Were it not for their assistance in this, radiation would be much more prevalent than it is today. As time passes, the public will become cognizant of many other ways in which they are helping.

Q27: What are the green fireballs that are sometimes accompanied by explosions?

A: Fireballs are not new. They are as old as Nature herself, for they are a natural phenomenon often seen during and after an electrical storm. they are, in fact, concentrations of electrical energy; and as a natural force are beneficial to life on a planet.

However, as a result of our nuclear tests, a false and dangerous condition has been created in our atmosphere. At times these concentrations of radiation will gather together and, while usually invisible, under certain conditions can extract enough elements from the atmosphere to appear as big "fireballs". With their finer instruments, space people are able to detect these false fireballs or pockets of radiation, visible or invisible; and when they do, they intercept and disintegrate them with a higher frequency ray. This is but another of their ways of aiding us.

In the case of both the natural and artificial fireballs, when the concentration of energy becomes too intense toward center an explosion comparable to spontaneous combustion takes place. This explains some of the sonic booms that have been recorded when no Jet planes were in the vicinity; and also accounts for the erroneous reports of "exploding" space ships.

These fireballs have been seen and reported in several different colors; the most frequent being green. Remember, however, space ships themselves can on occasion closely resemble a fireball when, in certain maneuvers and at certain speeds, they glow green, red, orange, white, etc. One is often mistaken for the other.

Q28: Can you explain the disappearance of some of our planes?

A: We all know what an atomic cloud looks like after the explosion. That cloud is really a concentrated mass of energy. As it travels around the world, it keeps transmuting itself towards an invisible state as it drops the debris picked up by the explosion. And it will continue in this state indefinitely.

These clouds are composed of the same concentrated energy as the "false fireballs" mentioned in the preceding question; only on a much vaster scale. Compared to the phenomenon discussed before, these concentrations are enormous. It is such a "cloud" that is responsible for many plane disappearances, for it is in a higher state of concentrated, activated energy than when it was first released. Since it is invisible, a pilot is unaware of its existence.

Should one of our planes contact such an invisible "cloud", it would either explode or disintegrate, seeming to disappear before the eyes of the onlooker. This explains some of the mysterious plane disappearances that have been reported. Since on several occasions space ships were being tracked on radar, and in some instances even visual reports were made of them in the vicinity of a disappearing plane, the implication has been that space ships were kidnapping our planes.

But I have been told, that because of our inefficient instruments for detection, space people know our pilots are helpless in the path of these "clouds". To avoid these very tragedies, they do their utmost to reach the concentrated mass as quickly as possible.

However, there have been occasions when they arrived just as one or more of our planes were entering one of these pockets of concentrated energy. Under the circumstances, they were unable to do more than stand by; because once a plane is caught in such a force it is impossible to save either the plane or its occupants. But they then later disintegrate the invisible cloud to avoid further catastrophe.

Q29: Why do astronomers say atmospheric conditions around our neighboring planets are such that human like us could not live there?

A: First of all, I know of no astronomer who has actually traveled to another planet to learn whether or not the atmosphere around it is similar to ours. So how can they be sure? Theory yes! But as scientific development progresses, theories are constantly being replaced by facts that prove many theories wrong.

For example: Not many centuries ago astronomers worked from the premise the earth was square and flat, and there were only seven planets in our solar system. But as science advanced and better instruments were developed, we located other planets; and by circumnavigation proved the world to be round.

While the spectroscope works well within a given distance, are we sure it works efficiently between planets? It is my belief that no instrument we now have is capable of accurately reading conditions immediately surrounding another planet. Studying conditions in space could be compared with trying to photograph on object a long distance from the camera, through a large body of water. For space is comparable to an immense "ocean" with its waves of energy and ever-changing "space debris."

Q30: Is there air on the moon?

A: Yes. Our scientists know that in order for any form to retain its shape, the inside and outside pressures must be equal. Atmosphere surrounding a body in space furnishes the pressure necessary to keep that form from exploding or disintegrating. Enormous pressures are built up within all planets, yet the atmosphere surrounding them offsets this by exerting a perfect balance of pressure from without.

Being a smaller body, the moon has a comparatively lighter atmosphere; yet not so light that human beings from Earth and other planets could not acclimate themselves. For have we not observed the man-made bridge, the tunnels, and the space craft bases on the moon in recent times?

Furthermore, if our scientists and government officials were not sure that atmosphere surrounds the moon, they would not be expanding so much money, time, and effort to reach our natural satellite. They know, as do you and I, that it would be impractical to carry sufficient oxygen in ships to make living on the moon comfortable for those who land there. And if, as they are saying, the first nation to reach the moon will control the destiny of Earth's inhabitants, they must be counting on enough natural atmosphere to enable the construction of primary installations from which operations could be carried out. Consider, too, that breathing, but for the operation of all equipment. For no motor, not even atomic, can run in the absence of oxygen.

Again let me remind you, there are people living on the moon in peace and happiness. If any of our nations hope to reach this body and land there, plans should include peace and friendliness toward those whose home they will be visiting.

Q31: Was the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter caused by a planet exploding as some believe?

A: No. The space visitors have told me the asteroid belt is not an exploded planet; nor is it, as has sometimes been stated, one destroyed by "evil forces." Rather, it is a natural incubator within which, according to natural law, planets are born to replace the present worlds as they gradually disintegrate. Other, bodies necessary for the perfect balancing of the system are also created therein.

This belt serves the purpose of a vibrator or agitator, agitating what we call the "still" force into an active force. This is essential to all systems. For the asteroid belt is actually electro-magnetically charged. Each minute particle is individualized and illumined with the natural energy contained within its particular area, and is growing or disintegrating in an ever-changing relationship. Were it not for this belt of intensified activity -- and two more father out -- our system would not have the necessary power to maintain its existence. For a clearer understanding, these belts can be compared to the action of what we call the armature of a motor. But the natural energy thus created is without amperage; and serves the system somewhat as a boost-station.

The particle in an asteroid belt are in constant collision. Sometimes this results in a blending of the two, creating a larger body; sometimes in an explosion, exactly like crossing two hot wires of electricity. Similar belts without number exist throughout the Cosmos. All serve as generators or agitators of energy, as well as promoters of it. The necessary reaction to create energy, which supports all bodies within itself, is brought about through this constant friction.

To some this may appear as a conflict in the Divine Plan. But it is not conflict as we know it, where one is set against another for destruction. Actually, it is construction; comparable to the conflict between male and female in the field of reproducing young. It is an orderly conflict in which one phase lends itself to another for the common good of all.

This is the explanation the space people gave me regarding the purpose of the asteroid belts. I pass it on in an effort to clarify this mystery in the minds of those seeking a greater understanding of the universe in which we all live. As we build ships and travel space, we will learn from experience the truth of this and other information given to us by those who have already attained this knowledge through their own experiences.

While on the point of the origin of this asteroid belt, let me quote from one of our scientists, Dr. Arthur M. Harding. In his book "ASTRONOMY, The Splendor of the Heavens Brought Down to Earth," published by Garden City Publishing Co., Inc. in 1935, on page 129, Dr. Harding writes. "It was at one time thought that perhaps the planetoids resulted from the explosion of a single planet which once revolved around the sun between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. It can be shown, however, from a study of their orbits that they could not have resulted from a single explosion."

His discussion of the planetoids, while short, is very interesting and enlightening.

Daniel Ross Talks On UFOs And Space Development In Tokyo

(Photos show '87 General Assembly of GAP-Japan held in Tokyo on September 20, 1987)

The annual General Assembly of GAP-Japan was held at Asahi Hall on the afternoon of September 20, 1987. This time, an American UFO researcher, Mr. Daniel Ross was invited by the Japanese Adamski group, the largest UFO organization in the Orient.

First, Hachiro Kubota, representative of GAP-Japan talked on UFOs and Adamski's claim by using slides, for an hour.

After that, Ross appeared on the stage and gave a wonderful lecture on UFOs as well as U.S. space development which left a deep impression on the minds of the audience.

Ross is the author of UFOs AND THE COMPLETE EVIDENCE FROM THE SPACE. Published last autumn in the U.S., this excellent book can be obtained from 'Public Interest Space Sciences Center' P.O. Box 3033, Walnut Creek, California 94598 U.S.A.

This autumn Mrs. Alice B. Pomeroy is coming to Japan. She is a distinguished disciple of George Adamski, and is to give a lecture on Adamski's cosmic philosophy at '1988 GAP-Japan General Assembly' to be held at Ginza Gas Hall in Tokyo on September 25.
