A Young Japanese Man Visits Other Planets [Part 3] by Hachiro Kubota

K: Hachiro Kubota, Representative of GAP-Japan.

H: Shoichi Harukawa, A contactee who visited Venus, Mercury and an unknown planet of another solar system in the direction of Cassiopeia.

An Ore from Another Planet

(Here, Mr. Harukawa showed me a small ore shining in golden color, and told me(Kubota)to keep it. It was a piece of copper pyrites. He told me that one of the space people had picked up this stone in the midst of the Himalayas when they had landed there in their space ship (scout ship), and had brought it to him. He also told me that this stone was emitting high quality waves, and that if I touched it, I could feel a kind of warmth from it. Indeed, it did give me some warm feeling when I did so.

The space brother might have read that Mr. Harukawa would give it to me in the future. However, this stone is not from another planet, but from the earth. Then the contactee talked.)

H: I keep just one ore which is from another planet, given by the space brother. It shows different colors according to different angles when looked at it. About four different colors. I will show you it when the time comes.

The space people knew that I had been interested in stones, so they have brought me many stones of a high frequency level, picked up at various places on the earth. Once they brought me such a large block of lapis lazuli from India (here he showed its size by making a large circle with his hands). I understand there is a mountain in India, where a lot of these stones are found.

In Canada, there is an area called Labrador Peninsula, where a special kind of ore radiating unique waves is found. It is called Labrador-lite. They have brought it to me as well. According to them, this stone can be found only at the sea bottom recently near Labrador Peninsula.

K: Have those stones good influences on human bodies?

H: Yes. Take this copper pyrites for instance. If you touch it, you will feel yourself getting warmer inside, or getting more energetic even during your hard work, although this is from the earth. And in a year, I think I will be able to exhibit that stone from another planet to the public. Then, I am planning on asking some laboratory to analyze it, so that it will be confirmed to be not from the earth.

K: Is that stone from planet Venus?

H: No, that's from planet Mercury. That is a very blue crystal. There exists no blue crystal on the earth.

(Then he kept talking about ores which emit unique waves for a while.)

H: The space people told me that there are various kinds of ores in the Himalayas. Old sedimentary rocks exist there, which have been under tremendous pressure. Consequently they have been denatured to be crystallized minerals. Therefore, there are much larger sized mineral crystals in the Himalayas in comparison with those found in Japan. This copper pyrites also has been through the same process. The crystal found in the Himalayas is much larger as well, and some of them are very good to regulate the frequencies of human beings, according to the space brothers. Some special places where such crystal exists are lama's territories, so other people are not allowed inside it. Crystal has a nature to amplify man's thought waves. But it amplifies both good thoughts and bad ones. So, if you carry it with you and tell a good story or give a good lecture, it works ideally. This might be the reason why Gorge Adamski used to carry the crystal pendant. However, if you raise a bad emotion, the crystal amplifies this vibration, too. Therefore, lamas are very cautious about crystals. You should be very careful when you use them.

Lapis lazuli has a nature to change the present state of mind toward some better direction. It works as a starter for the better change of mind.

K: I have read an article about lapis lazuli, which says if you keep it at the center of your forehead, you will improve your power of ESP.

H: Well, I doubt it. Lapis lazuli was originally white stone, mainly consisting of quartz, and later a certain amount of copper compound soaked into it, then consequently, it became stone to show the blue color. A stone which took in a proper amount of copper or iron during its formation process is apt to have some mental influence on human being. As a matter of fact, lapis lazuli has a nature to let man's mental state start changing. So, it seems to me that it's not good for you to wear this stone for a long time. The smart way to use this stone is to wear it only when you need to change your bad state of mind into good one. Then this will be a great starter for your better change.

The space people have collections of ores. They keep ores in cylindrical containers which keep all the waves emitting from the stones. These containers with stones are stored in a box. Once I saw them collect many 'electric stones'. This stone is crystallized in a pillar-shape. Interestingly enough, once it is heated, there appear magnetic poles on both its ends, and it finally generates electricity. This stone must have some strong electromagnetic power.

You Have to Have Good Surroundings to Become a Contactee

K: What do you think of the article 'A Japanese Boy Who Went Aboard A Flying Saucer' (This story is printed in No.2 issue of this English bulletin.) Where do you think that flying saucer came from?

H: I think that was from another solar system, because that one looks quite different from the ships in our solar system. What's more, the crew illustrated in the article look similar to the people from somewhere near the constellation of Andromeda. For, when I attended a meeting inside a mother ship from our solar system, there were several types of people from other solar systems. One group of them looked like the illustrated crew. Silver hair with mushroom-cut.

Their looks were a little strange to me, but I felt their mental level was quite high. I think the crew with whom the little boy visited Egypt in their flying saucer might have come from the same planet. But I'm not sure.

K: Are there many regular contactees on the earth?

H: Yes. There are two types of them. Some see the space people personally, while the others are in communication with them only through telepathy. Thought waves from the space people are always on the air, so there must be some sensitive people who can receive and read these thoughts.

I think it is very hard for us to differentiate their genuine thoughts from the other various impressions coming into our subconsciousness through the surroundings. In fact, a telepathy contactee is liable to be influenced by the mass of his own desires, his past experience, etc, lurking in his subconsciousness. I suppose the space people send their cosmic thought waves equally toward everyone on the earth to wake him up. But even if one is very sensitive and mentally improved, he is apt to be influenced a great deal by the human relations around him.

As a matter of fact, I know a person who used to be in contact with the space people face to face but had to quit it, because of the bad human relations with his family. It is very important for a contactee to have good human relations or harmonies with people around him. As I told you before, with an improvement of telepathic ability, one tends to know the bad points of others, initially. This is a big problem for him. Being together there for a long time with his family, he is liable to feel aggrieved against them. This is the reason why quite a few people with telepathic sensibility can't get along well with their families.

But once such a telepathic person tries hard and gets over this bad situation, he will be able to increase his power. To change the bad human relations to good ones is also one of the abilities he needs to improve. We should have good thoughts and have good influences on the people around us after all.

Better Not Make a Big Show

(Here we talked about some false contactees in Europe)

H: Recently I heard many things about 'M'. Quite a few people seem to believe him. I think I'd better not object to him in the public eye, or I'll be in danger. I heard that he had been the director of the 'Zurich riot' by which George Adamski got in trouble. He seems to have been organizing a large group since a long time ago.

K: I think there must be an organization behind him, right?

H: Yes, there is. He used to be a member of Madam 'B's study group. So I suppose there is some group from 'D Order' which is one of the organizations associated with the black mason. The would-be contactee 'B' is of the same line. He wrote in his book that he had been influenced by the 'D'. And 'T' was once a leader of the 'D' branch.

After all, there seem to be some people on the earth who do not want to welcome the cosmic truth. So, it might be the better way for us to act gently and try to let our thoughts penetrate deeply into the world. Claiming the truth loudly may not be the best way for us to take.

Fight Against Oneself

H: I used to think why UFOs would not land in front of the Diet Building.

K: It would have put people into panic, wouldn't it?

H: Yes, certainly. The space people have improved their ability to read the future so greatly that they know what kind of reactions we will take after such kind of landing. They can even read all the future influences on our society and on ourselves for 50 years from now. But as for beyond 50 years, it is not clear even for the space brothers. Generally, they can read the future 50 years ahead. Then they apply their power of belief for the future beyond 50 years to make it better. This might be one of the reasons why they live long lives.

K: You told me at another place that an individual's fate is determined under the influence of many elements from his ancestors. Does the man's destiny in his whole life mean just an outline of his life?

H: Yes, man's destiny is like a wide road on which he walks. And, each individual has his own tendency to walk as he wishes. For instance, someone likes to walk on the side only, while the other one on the left side. If there is a huge rock on the right side and someone is walking straight toward it, the space people would tell him to watch for it, but they would not lift him up and take him to some other safer place. He has to find the way to avoid his own trouble with the rock for himself. If there is anyone who likes gambling, the space brothers would advise him: "You'd better quit gambling. Try to change your mind which is attracted by gambling. But they would not take the gambling itself away. They would not take the rock away for him. He has to change course of his walking for himself.

However, most people keep walking on the same side without knowing the road of destiny is very wide. The space brothers told me that man's only fight is the fight against himself, and that each individual is required to win this battle to make a brighter future for the world.

George Adamski, the Great Forerunner

K: What do you think of the explosion accident at the nuclear power plant in the Soviet Union.

H: I heard that many extraterrestrial space ships had gathered over the plant at the accident.

K: I understand the explosion was caused by some operational mistake. Then, could not the space people have stopped it from happening?

H: That accident seems to have a meaning to warn the people on the earth of something. The important fact is that it occurred in the Soviet Union.

K: You mean, even if they knew it would occur, they let it go at that?

H: Yes, that's right. It might be proper to say that they would not try to stop it happening.

K: Is there no danger left now?

H: There is no danger any more. The space people told me that they had already removed everything dangerous. Because it was a so-called core fusion system, its tremendously destructive power would have melted the soil, and penetrated the whole body of the earth. It was a terrible accident. (Here he told me about a very important fact which is not allowed to be released now. Then he kept talking.)

The space brothers said, "You were greatly terrified by the nuclear accident, but you people on the earth do not try to be more serious about your safety."

K: But at the present we have to count on nuclear energy, because we need such a big amount of electric power. Don't you think so?

H: Well, the space people told me that they had made a mistake on this matter. They had thought that we would develop hydrogen energy ahead of nuclear energy, but actually we have developed the nuclear energy first. Did not George Adamski mention hydrogen energy?

K: He might have known it, but I don't think he made it public.

H: I see. I think he had to be careful to talk about this kind of matter, since it's a very political one. Anyway, he was a great forerunner on this subject about Cosmos. Therefore, he might have had very hard times to go on his way. And now at this present time, I can talk about my experiences of contact with the space people frankly, because Adamski had made such great works and had put the rail for us to go on.

K: Where do you think Adamski is reincarnated?

H: He must have gone to another planet in this solar system, maybe to the planet Venus. I think he lived on Venus in his previous life.

Venusian's Clothes and Their Master

K: Could you tell me about clothes of Venusians you saw inside the mother ship or on Venus?

H: I've seen several types of their clothes. One was like our gown with a belt on the waist, and on the belt was always attached a stone, or an ore. They wear this kind of belt with a stone for the purpose of regulating their thoughts, especially when they attend some important meetings. The type of clothes the Venusian was wearing at the meeting with George Adamski in Desert Center on November 20, 1952, which was choked at wrists and ankles, is a kind of home wear and is also for outdoor activities. The material of this type of clothes is very special. It is soft and luminous like silk, and very solid as well, so that it can shut out all the vibrations from outside. So when you wear the clothes of such material, your body will never catch any bad frequencies from outside.

Elders of high mental level (Masters) were dressed in very simple clothes which looked like ancient Greeks' made of one piece of cloth. The Masters looked very sublime in this kind of clothes. They looked so exalted and solemn that I can hardly describe what they looked like in my limited words. Well, if I am allowed to say, their faces looked like ancient Greek people, almost like the people often illustrated in the Bible. They had white hair and some of them had beards.

Telepathic power of the Masters is extraordinary. Once I sat at a meeting table with a Master inside a mother ship. Every time he looked at me, I felt like I was nothing. Space people aged about a hundred years old (in earthly time) are rather young for their age. When they walk, they make certain sounds of foot steps. But those elders never make sounds when they walk.

K: What kind of shoes do they wear?

H: I've seen one like our rain shoes, and one with something like golden strings wound up. The style of the most is like ballet shoes. I would like to tell you one more thing about the elders. I could see a golden aura around their heads even in bright light, which I think every earthman could recognize. Those are kind of haloes. The aura of every Master shows a beautiful golden color. I don't think I will be able to have the privilege to attend such a meeting any more. Anyway, it was a great experience for me.

K: Were you the only Japanese who attended that meeting?

H: No. There were some more Japanese and also some people from other countries on the earth. Total of about a hundred people from the earth were there. The meeting was held inside a huge mother ship. All the people gathered there were separated into six groups, and had meetings in the different rooms at the same time. It is obvious that there are so many contactees on the earth, but there are very few who talk about the experiences of their own contacts. Most of them keep silent in order to live safely. As for me, I can talk about this subject frankly, because I live in such a safe country. What is more, fortunately I could get good human relations with many people who gave me a lot of information. It was information to let me know who or what is trying to disturb our activities as contactees. But many of those who gave me the information did not know that I was a contactee. Many contactees who can't get this kind of information feel like they are in the dark, surrounded by enemies, and finally come to keep silent.

But the time has changed now. The contactees who have kept silent will begin to reveal their experiences to the public in a few years probably. Then discussion on UFOs will be booming all over the world. The time will come, probably in a few years.

Reincarnation and Carrying Over of Man's Memories

K: Could you tell me how man's memories are carried over to his reincarnated body?

H: Well, all the memories are put in man's sub-consciousness after all. And all of the information for the past 3, 300 years are kept in his body. Man's spinal column consists of 33 sections and each section acts as a switch to bring out the information for one hundred years.

K: I understand the spine is important. But man's body is burnt after he dies, so his spine is also burnt. Then, how can the information of his past lives be kept?

H: I think it is caused by a very physical process. Probably there exist some kind of particles in which the memories are put. And as man's body begins to change after his death, those particles can no longer stay there and will start to move out at tremendous speed toward the body of a newborn baby. This speed is beyond our concept of time.

K: I've heard man's soul moves into a new body not at the moment of the mother's conception, but at the moment of the birth. Is it right?

H: Yes, at the moment of the birth, and sometimes on the way of growing after the birth.

There are three major kinds of energy which create man. Such as the energy flowing from his ancestors, the energy from his past lives, and his own physical, material energy. As the Bible says, there is a body first, then the spirit comes in, and then the energy from the ancestors comes in. Recently I've read a very interesting article in a science magazine. It says that a person who was hypnotized to be led toward the past could recall the very moment of his birth, and that he could see his consciousness flowing very rapidly like a river at that moment.

K: That story appears to confirm Adamski's 'three second reincarnation theory'. He says that no spiritual world exists. Right?

H: Right. I don't think it exists. But once in a while, someone happens to have an illusion as if he went to the spiritual world and came back to this world. Let's think about dreams. Just after dreaming, sometimes you feel as if having spent a whole week in the dream, despite it was only 30 seconds in actual time. Like this, man's brain which is dying is in the state beyond our conception of time. Therefore, man is apt to have an illusion when he is dying. So-called 'near-death experience' is a very good example to confirm that no spiritual world exists. Rather many people have claimed that they had once died and come back here from the spiritual world. But some people living in Christian countries represent the Christian spiritual world, while some other people in Buddhist countries represent the Buddhist spiritual world. They are not identical with each other. The claimed experiences in the spiritual worlds leave some illusory elements. Actually, the spiritual world after death does not exist at all. It is silly if man lives in this world thinking of the world after death (spiritual world). Man was born to act his role in this world.

The space people think that the earthlings should not think too much on the subject of reincarnation. Since we have such weak wills, if we get involved deeply in the idea of reincarnation, we would forget about what we should do at this present moment. They often told me to concentrate myself more on the present life.

K: It's not possible that man is reincarnated to be an animal, or an animal to be man, is it?

H: No. The reincarnation of the soul of man must occur only between the same nature. Man and animals are quite different in many respects. The soul does not go into a different type of container.

Fireball Sighting in 1985 in Japan and Dwarf Spacemen

K: On October 8th, 1985, a group of fireballs flew through the night sky of the Japanese islands, which were witnessed by many people, and the video tapes of them were broadcasted from all the TV stations in Japan. Do you know anything about that case?

H: I know for a certainty that those were UFOs. Just after that sighting, one country announced that there were some fallen substances found and those were confirmed being not from the earth. But this fact was not reported widely to the public. NHK (Japan Broadcasting Corporation) TV news has made just one casual comment on this fact though.

K: Where did they come from?

H: They were from some other solar system. I think they made some mistakes and were in trouble at that time. If those UFOs were from any planet in this solar system and made that kind flight, they would have told us about their maneuver beforehand. Therefore, those were from outside of this solar system and happened to get in some trouble, probably caused by some unexpected frequencies of the earth. Of course, they were not invading us, but just in trouble.

K: Are there any space people coming to the earth in an attempt to invade us?

H: Certainly not. But there are some space people whose life forms and thought patterns are very different from ours. They visit the earth once in a long while. Although they don't intend to invade us, to get in contact with such people is dangerous, according to the space brothers. Because they don't know how to get along with us, they will treat us as pets. There are some different space people like this.

K: Do they look like us?

H: Yes, somehow. They are humanoid all right, but as far as I know, they are very small, what we call 'dwarf space men'. These people have not come to the earth so often as it has been said. Actually about once in ten years. They must have some purpose to visit here, but they are so different from us in many respects, that they are apt to treat us as we treat our pets. So they are 'uninvited guests' for us. But unless we get in contact, we'll be all right. They seem to have telepathic ability of a rather high level.

They once came to Izu Peninsula in Japan several years ago. Interestingly enough, they usually come over to volcanic zones. They might be attracted by some kind of energy in those areas.

K: I have seen in a UFO magazine a photograph of a dwarf spaceman who was taken by both hands. Is that picture genuine?

H: No, I don't think that is genuine. That dwarf in the picture looks very humanoidic though. But sometimes dwarf spacemen of that kind fell down to the earth. The incident in which dead bodies of some dwarf spacemen have been collected in the USA might as well have something to do with them. I suppose they were the dwarf spacemen as I mentioned.

Anyway, some of these spacemen seem to be trouble-makers for the planet union of this solar system.

Fatima Case was the True UFO Incident

K: What do you think of the miraculous experiences of St. Bernadette of Lourdes in France? I think there was a space ship from another planet up in the sky, and it might have transmitted some special kind of beam toward her, so that she could see the figure and hear the voice of a young lady. This lady was actually a spacewoman, but people around Bernadette thought that she was St. Mary. This case was the space brothers' project to help the people in Christian countries to improve their humanity. What do you think about my reasoning on this case?

H: I don't know well about that case, but in the Fatima case, the space brothers told me that UFOs appeared in the sky of Fatima, Portugal. For Christians, Christianity is the key to freedom and at the same time to restriction. Christianity has been with their culture so tightly that it is hard for us to discuss. But at least I think they have come to the point at present to take some false portions out of it to make a new genuine Christianity. So it is probable that the space brothers tried to wake people up by using some technique as one of their projects to rebuild genuine Christianity.

In Christian countries, the Virgin Mary seems to be a great being for the people. Therefore, the space brothers might have carried this kind of project by letting them think of the vision of the lady as the Mother of God.

K: The well-known prophecy was made then in Fatima, and its copy is hidden in the Vatican. It has been said that the prophecy predicts an occurrence of World War III. Is it true?

H: Yes, it is. The Vatican has the copy, and terrible people have become aware of it and are getting closer to it now. The space brothers are keeping their eyes on the movement of the black mason in the Vatican.

A copy of this prophecy was sent to a monastery in Japan, too, and only the priest there knows the details of it. This fact of being sent was once in the news, but no details were released. It will be dangerous in various respects if the details are brought out all at once. The space brothers are keeping alert eyes on the people in the black mason who have tried to handle the information these days. Their main strategy at present is not to frighten us directly, but to release the false information. The space people told me to be careful of that kind of information. I understand there is such an information war inside NASA, too. Sooner or later, the Vatican will have to release the contents of the prophecy little by little.

The Great Pyramids in Egypt are the Monument

K: Are the pyramids in Egypt the monument of Atlantis?

H: They were influenced very much by Atlantis, although the three great pyramids at Giza were built in rather recent days. In earlier days, staircase style pyramids were built and this model was a kind of cone shape with a winding up pattern like the Tower of Babel, which had existed in Atlantis. Originally, the space people had shown their buildings on the other planets to the people in Atlantis, and had advised them to build the same cone style buildings, by telling them that such a shape of their structures would have high frequencies.

This original shape had been changed through the years to a quadrangular pyramid like the great pyramids in Giza. It might be proper to take those in Giza as a monument or a heritage. The heritage of those days, which shows that even in the past, man created the culture of such a high level, associated with the space people to that extent. The great sphinx is quite interesting, too. Under the sphinx lies a flying saucer.

K: I have read about that in a book. Is that true?

H: Yes, that is true. I don't know why the author came to know that fact, though. Furthermore, there is a solid structure below the sphinx, and from which run underground tunnels all the way down to the great pyramids.

K: Did Atlantis sink about 12,000 years ago?

H: Yes, or probably a little earlier. I have a clear memory of my past life in Atlantis. I was there when the continent sank. I remember the impact of the very moment of the sinking of Atlantis.

K: Then, did you die there?

H: Yes. I remember the scene in which I died very clearly. A gigantic wall of a tidal wave came surging upon us.

K: Did the whole continent sink in one night as legend tells?

H: No, it took three or four days.

K: Was it caused naturally or by a war?

H: By a war. A war of very high level. People's mental power was used in the war as well. Legend tells that the continent Mu had sunk before Atlantis, but according to my memory, the two continents had sunk together. The people in Mu had superior telepathic ability, and many had predicted their continent would sink. They had escaped from the catastrophe beforehand to other places.

Some of them went to another planet. In Atlantis there were some spiritualistic people along with materialistic ones, and the two sides were always opposed to each other. Finally this opposition brought forth the terrible war, triggered by desires and betrayals of the leaders.

K: Did you get any of this knowledge from the memory of your past life?

H: Yes. I had to make a lot of minute efforts to remember the times in Atlantis one by one, time after time. Finally I found that the past life in Atlantis had created my karma, and that my following lives had been influenced by it.

Once I found the original pattern of my karma, I could track all the following lives easily.

There is a wall which prevents the whole knowledge. But once you break a part of it, soon the whole wall disappears. As for me, as soon as I found the following pattern of my past lives, I came to learn many other things about the background or circumstances of those past lives as well, such as how the ancestors of Japanese people had arrived in these islands, etc.

K: I understand there was a nuclear war in Atlantis.

H: Yes. By putting their thought energy into nuclear weapons, they made another type of powerful killer weapons as well. Hypnotism was also used in that war. Some people were hypnotized to be led to believe that they were animals. As a result, their bodies were changed to different forms, and they were forced to work as slaves.

Here, my conclusion is not to reveal my experiences loudly on newspapers or such, but to get people of the same quality together and take the fact seriously for the future. (To be continued in the next issue)

(Mr. Harukawa talked to me a lot more quite interesting stories, but I cannot print all of them here. In the next issue, you will enjoy the information on school systems, music, letters, and symbols on planet Venus. Also, you will get some knowledge of his way of receiving telepathy, the way of developing telepathic ability, the power of belief, black holes in space, etc.)

Questions & Answers

by George Adamski

This Q & A was published by George Adamski in 1957 and sent to his co-workers all over the world. This contains much valuable information on UFO issues even now. (Editor, Uc)

Q32. Does the often discussed "tilt of the Earth" mean total destruction?

A: No. actually, only a small portion of the planet will be directly affected. In these days of rapid world wide communication systems, any catastrophe can be minimized. Our foremost scientists are studying this movement closely, and ample warning of danger will be given.

This tilt is not the result of our firing the huge bombs, nor is it Punishment for "the sins of the world". It is a natural, orderly change which occurs to all planetary bodies. Nature is in constant motion; constantly changing, yet adhering to definite time cycles which cannot be altered by Man. So the tilt of the Earth, bringing up rested, fertile lands from beneath the seas to replace wornout ground, is but fulfilling a Cosmic time schedule. Were it not for these "rest periods" for depleted ground, no planet could continue to support life. A portion of land, which in some long ago cycle was withdrawn from man's use, will rise. While other lands will again be covered with life-giving seas to revitalized; to someday, in a far distant cycle, rise again for man to use. This has happend countless times in the past, so you can see our "world" is not going to be destroyed.

From above, where their vantage point gives a greater overall observation, and with their technical knowledge and more advanced instruments than any on Earth, the Brothers are watching, too. When findings are definite they will gladly share them with us. How much this could mean to us depends on how receptive we are when the time comes.

Should these warnings from our scientists and the Brothers be ignored, as has often happened in the past, there will be great toll of life. However, if people will but realize that with life they can rebuild and again accumulate the possessions they hold dear, the toll of life can be minimized. But survival will depend upon heeding the warning to leave for safer parts. Here again, is an individual problem; a decision each must make for himself.

Q33. Do you support what is commonly known as psychism or mystic channels?

A: I do not disapprove of any field of exploration, nor the attempt to develop any form of human ability. For even out of false promotion, the truth will eventually emerge. Misuse of the Law is usually brought about through ignorance.

There is a vast difference between true Law, which is never possessive and caters to no one, and the so-called "laws" which glorify the personal ego. God, or the Divine Creator, is a respecter of no person, nor is Nature, His creation.

Delving into psychic matters is a dangerous pastime without first acquiring a thorough knowledge of one's self, one's relation to the Cosmos, and the factors with which one is dealing. For lack of this basic preparation, Man in his searching his followed many avenues which have led only to confusion. There are no "short-cuts" to ture development. Yet, working with patience, in time man can attain access to Cosmic knowledge. Psychism and mysticism, as improperly understood and practiced, can lead only to bewilderment and often danger.

Q34. What is your opinion of messages received through the Ouija board and automatic writing?

A: Again, this goes back to lack of understanding of one's self and a relationship to the All. Under a form of self hypnotism, one usually tunes into the first level of impressions, which is the earth itself. Since there are 2½ billion minds in this world, the first impression level thus contacted would produce representative "messages"; thought forms of greed, fear, hatred, divisions, self-aggrandizement, forecasts—and always the lowgrade pranksters.

Truly divine messages threaten no one, judge none, and ever create fear. Such messages never contain personal predictions. Using this rule as a yardstick, it is reasonably easy to determine whether what is received is stemming from a low level of this world, or is Cosmic in nature. Again, we do not deny the Law; we merely deplore misuse of the Law through lack of understanding.

Q35. Do space people materialize and dema-terialize?

A: No, they do not! If they were capable of materializing and dematerializing, why have they bothered to build metal ships? This necessitates the mining, smelting and alloying of the metals, building the space ships and manning them with crews. If they possessed the mystical powers of materialization and dematerialization some on Earth have accredited to them, all this would be a needless waste of time and effort.

We know from tracking their ships on rader, and from examining them after they have crashed, that they are indeed very "material". I cannot stress this point too strongly. They are normal human beings of flesh and blood the same as we on Earth.

Q36. Where can one learn the Universal Laws and how to use them?

A: The course on Telepathy I am now, preparing, and of which notices were included with the first booklet of this series, explains these laws as I have used them, and as the Brothers tell me they are used by the people on our neighboring planets. This will not be the normally accepted teachings on telepathy, but will explain what a person is, how he operates, and his purpose for being. This understanding is essential for the unfolding of true telepathy. For there is no truer saying than, "Man know thyself and all things shall be revealed unto you." All nature is simple; so are the Universal Laws.

The Universal Laws are not new or unknown to Earth's people. They have been handed down for countless centuries through our philosophical teachings. But because to the average person these teachings have been cloaked in mystery and relegated to the filed of the abstract, few people recognize the kernels of Truth lost amidst the mountains of chaff. We must remember, True Philosophy is nothing more than the science of living according to the purpose for which all forms were brought into being. There must be eternal growth and blending; but never divisions. To return to my course on telepathy.

I have been asked if one taking this course will be able to contact the space people. This I cannot promise. Development and success depend entirely upon each person's application of the information given. Already, with the little given in INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS on telepathy, a number of young people are having remarkable success in mentally communicating with their friends. This, I believe, is a very good illustration of the proverb about learning by becoming "as a little child." For their minds are not yet cluttered with the preconceived ideas their elders have unquestioningly accepted as concrete facts. And in many minds, these "concrete facts" offer a barrier which precludes the entrance of any new concept that is foreign to their preconceived ideas.

Q37. Can space people receive a thought from any of us today?

A Yes, they constantly do. As fully explained in my book, INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, it was in this manner that a certain group of space people tested and proved my sincerity, then chose me as one through whom they could speak to the peoples of the world.

They are also aware of many others who are sending thoughts their way, and in many instances they do respond. But, I am told, most people have kept their minds so occupied with sending out thoughts concerned with a contact, that any chance of establishing a "receiving station" was impossible. Obviously, unless the telepathy can work both ways, contact cannot be completed.

To people of all ages who are interested in telepathic contact with our space visitors, I always suggest they test themselves with Earthly-friends, both for sending and for receiving thoughts. For if a man cannot receive mental messages from someone with whom he is already acquainted, how can he expect success with those from other planets?

Q38. Do you support reincarnation?

A Call it what you will, obviously there is a continuation of life. Life is eternal, and eternity means without beginning or ending. You have been, and you will continue to be, whether in this world or in other material worlds.

Divine Nature knows no waste. Proof is to be found in the study of any of her aspects. The tree matures to giant stature through centuries, only to eventually crash to earth and crumble into dust. But this very dust fertilizes future trees so that they, too, can grow straight and strong. So it is with the "lives" of a human creature. Each life experience, when rightfully used, adds strength and understanding to future lives yet to come.

Would it not be a sinful waste for man to be created only once, placed without reason in the position he now occupies in the world—then be consigned by a capricious Creator to what we call heaven or hell for eternity? This would be neither logic nor progress, and the Law of Progression is the foundation of the Cosmos.

And as the Brothers have explained to me, that which we call spirit could not manifest if it were not for material form through which to express, nor could the material exist if it were not for the spirit, or Cause. So, Man, whether of this world or others, after laying down, or moving out of the material body he has been using, does take on another through which to express and learn from experience.

Q39. When we have learned our lessons in this world, where do we go next?

A If this question means which planet—no man knows! But all planets are school rooms in the Cosmos. And just as we graduate from grade to grade in our school systems, retaining and using knowledge learned in the lower grades, so we graduate from planet to planet and system to system. The Cosmos is a vast school with many departments of learning for every state of being. There are primary planets, and planets advanced far beyond the scope of our earthly imaginations. But we are eligible, eventually, for all. What we need to concern ourselves with here, is to try to master the lessons of the present that we may the more speedily inherit the future that is surely our destiny.

Q40. If what you say is fact, where then are heaven and hell?

A These two terms have reference to states of consciousness rather than to definite locales. It has been our misinterpretation of reality that has led us to be taught that heaven and hell are actual places, located somewhere out in the vast Cosmos beyond the Earth. Today many people are living in hell right here, because of the confusions, uncertainties and divisions; all of which creates fear, want and hatred. Yet our planet, being the handiwork of the Creator, is a divine creation.

When one understands himself, his purpose for being, and his relationship to the All, he rises in consciousness to a heavenly state of naturalness wherein, because of his understanding of creation and himself, he has compassion for all. This does not mean a state of blissful unconcern. On the contrary, people who have attained this understanding are actively interested in all that goes on about them. Criticism from others does not disturb them, because they know that others are learning lessons just as they are, and this constant growth and development will continue throughout eternity. Nor do they condemn another for what today might be considered a shortcoming, because they recognize these very "shortcomings" as but lessons to be learned. Thus they do not label one act as good and another as evil; but look upon the whole as an unfolding through experiences.

At first, this idea may not be acceptable to those who have never thought along this broader line. But a careful look around will convince us of the truth of these facts. Some people enjoy dancing; others think it a sin. Who is right? Each person is firmly convinced he is! One person enjoys serving his fellowman in every possible way; another prefers to be served. Is one right and the other wrong? Who is to say?

The wise man does not judge. He looks upon the whole as the working out of the Divine Plan, knowing full well the Creator does not condemn, does not find fault with any segment of His creation.

Living in peace with one's fellowman is but a matter of understanding and compassion. It is a Universal Law we all must learn and apply in our daily contacts with others if we are to progress.

Q41. Can you prove that the letter you received from Mr. Straith, which was reproduced in the second part of this series, was not a fake?

A Yes. The original letter, and clearly reproduced in the photostats, carries the impression of the official Seal of State just above the salutation. This seal is never found on blank paper. It is impressed only after a letter has been written and signed.

Our Seal of State is rigorously guarded—as it should be—for documents bearing this official badge carry weight throughout the entire world. If its promiscuous use were permitted, its intrinsic value as a token of authenticity would be lost. Therefore, only certain persons are allowed the privilege of employing this Seal, and any attempt at illegal use would result in prompt and heavy penalty for the culprit. Yet, to the best of my knowledge, no such action has taken place... because the letter is recognized as authentic.

Q42. Have you ever predicted mass landings of space craft, or any such future event?

A No! Everyone who knows me, knows I have persistently insisted no plans were being contemplated for mass landings. In Question #17, I state very clearly why such an event could not take place in the foreseeable future.

Not to my amazement, these fantastic forecasts are continually being circulated as supposedly coming from me. In an effort to discredit me, the sources from which these stem seem to delight in putting words into my mouth. Such claims are wholly false, and have contributed largely to the ridicule I have faced since my first meeting with Orthon on the desert. I have repeated endless numbers of times, that because of the changeableness of human nature, especially in our world, even the Brothers with their greater understanding do not predict a definite date for coming events. If they do not...surely, I would not dare be so bold!

Two notable examples of these false predictions—which I denied vehemently at the time—were the destruction of Chicago several years ago, and the promise of space craft hovering over Los Angeles, California, for the purpose of transmitting messages through radio and TV to the people of the world. In the first instance, I sent telegrams to two radio commentators whom I know, asking them to tell the people there was no truth in this highly publicized report. Neither commentator cooperated. In the second instance, two weeks before the predicted date of November 7th, 1956, one commentator did read my letter over the air, wherein I stated the Space Brothers would not attempt to communicate with the people in this manner.

Unfortunately, this November 7th fiasco was given world-wide publicity; and my mail even yet contains puzzled queries regarding it. This particular false prophecy heaped ridicule and scorn upon the reality of the space visitors, and skeptics still point to it as confirmation of their non-existence.

These erroneous predictions come only through mystic channels. They have no foundation in reality. I cannot emphasize too strongly that the real, flesh and blood space travelers are not using these channels of communication. They do not make definite promises. A moment's thought should make it apparent that were the space people actually planning an appearance anywhere, they would extend the local officials the courtesy of the announcement; not relay their message through a third party.

So please disregard the many predictions supposedly coming from George Adamski! I assure you, should any announcement be forthcoming, I will personally make the proclamation, leaving no doubt as to its authenticity.

Q43. Are all space people vegetarians?

A No. Shortly after the first of the year I had the pleasure of attending a meeting comprised of people from Mars, Venus, Saturn, Jupiter, Uranus, and Neptune. It was a friendly get-together, devoted mainly to discussions of some of our everyday problems. The subject of eating was introduced, and I asked for more specific information, since so many questions regarding this topic are coming to me.

Their answer was simple and precise. On their planets they do not raise cattle for slaughter. They eat fish at about the same ratio most of us eat meat, while their meat eating is comparative to the average Earthling's fish consumption.

They have studied our food carefully, and in view of present conditions on Earth find they are healthier if they eat meat approximately once or twice a week while here. They told me they usually purchase the cheaper cuts which can be boiled with vegetables, much like my mother used to cook when I was a boy. They are very fond of all vegetables, and make appetizing soups from beans, potatoes, etc. Raw fruits and vegetables prepared as salads, are particularly enjoyed by these people. Of course, they continue to eat fresh fish whenever obtainable.

In other words, they pointed out that they are not fanatics. Those worried about the consumption of any particular food might do well to heed the words of Jesus. "Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man;" Matt. 15:11

Q44. Do you advocate the form of government used on other planets for the nations of Earth?

A I advocate nothing! Before any change can be successful, the people must first thoughtfully consider it; then establish a sincere desire by attuning their minds beforehand. Since we on Earth are geared to slow changes, lawmaking alone would be ineffectual. The governments we now have can serve the people very adequately. Remember, we have not yet grown sufficiently in compassionate understanding toward our fellowman to be capable of living under a government similar to that of the more advanced planets.

Their form of government has been explained to us merely as an illustration to prove that the Laws for Living, as given to us countless times through the ages, are applicable on any planet. Earthlings, because of their deep reverence for these great Teachers, have enshrined their teachings in the world religions, not comprehending they were showing us a way of life.

Adamski's Contact in Desert Center is the Truth!

by Koichi Sakamoto

On January 20, 1989, we left Narita International Airport (Japan) for Los Angeles, California. This was an investigative tour to locate the exact spot in the desert where George Adamski had first met the Venusian named Orthon on November 20, 1952. The contact is fully described in his first book "Flying Saucers Have Landed." The members from Japan on this tour were Hachiro Kubota, 65 (the leader of GAP-Japan), Yoshifumi Shino, 45 (a member of GAP-Japan), Moko (my wife) and me.

On the same day, we arrived in L.A. There, Daniel Ross, 42 (one of the best UFOs and space science researchers in the world, and the author of "UFOs and Complete Evidence from Space") and his wife Pamela joined us after a long drive from Concord, California.

That night, we all had a wonderful dinner party together, talking a lot about space, cosmic truth and many other subjects, filled with a very cheerful and happy feeling, which made us feel as if all of us were members of the same family. This feeling remained with us all through the tour.

The next day, early in the morning, the six of us left L.A. eastward for the desert in a very happy mood. It was a nice long drive for three hours to Desert Center, in the fair weather of sunny California.

At the Desert Center crossing, we took another highway leading to Parker, Arizona.

Then, as George Adamski had noted in his book "Flying Saucers Have Landed", we drove down the highway for about 10 miles to reach an area close to the contact spot.

Prior to this research, there had been several attempts made by Kubota with many people from GAP-Japan to pin-point the exact contact spot. Dan and Pam (Mr. and Mrs. Ross) had also visited this area for the same purpose a few times individually. Later, they had once joined a GAP-Japan tour in 1987 which had led them very close to the spot.

Last November, on the 20th, Kubota had visited this area again with his close co-workers, including Shino. At that time, they had found an arc carved on a rocky hillside, which then had appeared to be a trace of a flying saucer's landing. But, since it had been in the evening and had already been quite dark, they had had to cease further investigation. To investigate the area further was also one of the major purposes of this tour.

Owing to those previous attempts, it was not hard for us to reach the area in the desert this time.

Immediately upon parking our car off the highway, we stepped out and marched on the flat desert land for a while, then climbed a steep rocky hillside to the location of the arc.

At the location, it was obvious to everyone that the carved arc was not of natural origin. But according to Kubota, it had been much longer when he had seen it the last time. For some reason, the major portion of the arc looked crushed and had not kept its shape well enough to be confirmed, at least officially, whether it was a trace of a flying saucer's landing.

However, it didn't matter to us if it could be confirmed officially or not. The fact is that such an arc had been clearly made artificially on a hillside of an isolated desert land and had been discovered by the people searching for the truth in that area with cosmic feeling last November. It was quite natural for us to take it as something to do with Space People.

At the site of the arc, we rested for a while. Being there, I was very happy, feeling just great, feeling like I was absorbing a lot of energy from the land. One of my friends, who has strong extra sensory perception, used to tell me that any place on the earth where spaceships landed had a special kind of energy, radiating high frequencies of waves. This area in the desert must have had that kind of energy. As a matter of fact, all of us were able to walk around in this wilderness almost all day long without any food and drink under nearly 28°C temperature, except a few pieces of oranges which Pam had prepared for us. "Thanks Pam, it was delicious!"

After a short rest, we descended from the hillside to a valley below. Somewhere in this valley had been thought to be a favorable candidate for the contact spot from those previous investigations. So, we walked around this area trying to determine the exact spot.

To certify the spot, we carried some pictures and books with us. Among them, there were two important pictures which had been taken just after the contact on November 20, 1952. George H. Williamson, the one who had done the plaster of Paris work on the Venusian's footprints (noted in "Flying Saucers Have Landed") had reproduced those two pictures in his book titled "Other Tongues - Other Flesh." One of them had been taken from the highway side, showing George Adamski standing at the contact spot. The other one had been taken from the opposite side, showing the scene of Williamson's plaster of Paris work with four other people. Both of the pictures show distinctive skylines caused by mountain ranges in the background. So, we walked around in the valley, trying to find a spot from which we could view both of the skylines at the same time.

We searched for the spot in the valley quite a long while, but couldn't get the perfect matching. Then finally, we decided to move a little from there to the next valley lying beyond another hill.

We climbed another hill and reached the next valley, and again we began searching.

Then after a little while, I saw Kubota's big gesture to call all of us to his location. We rushed toward him. His face was filled with a full smile, patting the ground there, saying "This is the spot, this is the spot!"

Yes, he was right. From there, we could view perfectly the same skylines on both sides as those in Williamson's pictures. Now, we stood on the spot!

We tried to make our footprints in the soil as Orthon had done 36 years ago. Since the soil at the location was rather sticky and different from any other spot in the same desert area, our footprints were clearly made in the soil easily.

Then, we stood at the place where Adamski had first seen Orthon, from there we walked to the place of the footprints, and then to the place where the Venusian scoutship hovered above the ground about a foot or two at the far side from Adamski, and very near to the bank of the hill. But the slope of the hill was such that the front, or that part of it closest to Adamski, was a good six feet above the earth

Everybody was happy being there, imagining the scene of the historical contact 36 years ago. I felt like I wanted to stay there forever.

As for Kubota, he had become one of the international co-workers of George Adamski almost 30 years ago. Since then, he has kept working hard on GAP-Japan. And now, he stood

UFOs AND THE COMPLETE EVIDENCE FROM THE SPACE

The Truth About Venus, Mars, and the Moon

by Daniel Ross

There are great civilizations on the moon and other planets of our solar system! NASA has discovered many astounding facts about the heavenly bodies, but they have strictly been kept secret. This book reveals the amazing truth behind NASA's space development. on this exact contact spot, showing a beautiful smile. This smile was telling everything on his mind without any words. I was deeply moved and very happy at this beautiful expression on his face.

We left the site at sunset. The next afternoon, we visited there and again stayed till sunset. Then we drove to San Diego.

San Diego is a beautiful city. Dan and Pam used to live there and suggested that we visit this city. The following day, they showed us wonderful places and also took us to several good bookstores, where we were able to find many interesting books. All of us loved this city very much. We were leaving L. A. for Japan the next day. During this tour, we had a party every night with the six of us, every time beyond midnight. We talked a lot and laughed a lot. This five day tour was full of excitement and happiness.

At one of the parties, we discussed what the Get-Acquainted Program really means and concluded as this. Of course it is a program to inform people of the cosmic truth. But a more important principle of GAP is to come to know each other, then understand each other. So far as this principle is concerned, the six of us did a great job this time.

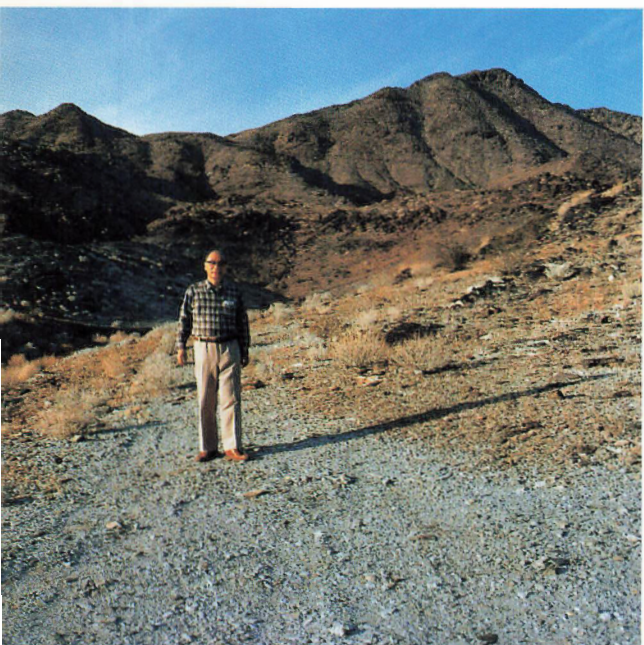

There are many people all over the world who are seeking for cosmic truth and the right direction of man's way of life. Even so, there are still some different opinions among them and some people continue to criticize each other. But we should recognize that those different points are almost nothing in the cosmos. Let us forget these small differences and try to understand each other, will you?

A Rewarding Visit to Desert Center

by Daniel Ross

I had made two trips to Desert Center in the 1970's. Both of those times I was simply interested in seeing the general location of George Adamski's 1952 contact with the man from Venus, including that historic landing of a Scoutship, which became well-known with the publication of FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED. On my early visits, and with only the book's descriptions of the landing site as a guide, I must say that I was fairly content in just seeing the general area, and not expecting much more to be found.

In 1987 I visited the site again, this time with the tour group from GAP-Japan. While again following the book's basic details, we hiked in from the road. After much traversing around the landscape, I agreed that we were in the right location, and concluded that the actual contact spot was somewhere within a radius of 50 meters from where we were standing. As it turns out, my estimate was incorrect, because unknown at the time, the little hill to the left separated us from the actual contact point.

In January of this year, I was indeed happy to join Mr. Hachiro Kubota and his GAP members for a short trip to Desert Center again. After following the same procedures in locating the area, and then spending some time hiking around the landscape, Mr. Kubota suggested that we cross over the little hill to the left. Within a few minutes, we all were amazed at our lucky turn. For here was the actual contact spot, without a doubt. Both the foreground and the distant surroundings perfectly matched the photographs taken at the time of the historic 1952 contact. We were at first awestruck, and then elated with joy. This was definitely, and absolutely, the exact spot.

My early trips had seemed satisfactory to me back then, by my thinking it sufficient in just finding the general area. But on this last trip, finding the true contact site was a real reward. I must add too that it was a remarkable feeling, to be standing there at the actual site of that important meeting between Orthon and George Adamski — the place where the truth about our Venusian Visitors was brought to the Earth, along with the Reality behind the visiting space-ships.

'1988 GAP-Japan General Assembly' is a Great Success with Alice Pomeroy's Excellent Talk

1988 GAP-Japan General Assembly is a great success with Alice Pomeroy's excellent talk.

On September 20, 1988, the annual General Assembly of GAP-Japan was held at the Ginza Gas Hall in Tokyo. There, we received a wonderful lecture by Mrs. Alice B. Pomeroy from Northboro, Massachusetts, USA, and celebrated the accomplishment of 100 issues of "UFO contactee" (Japanese edition) published by GAP-Japan.

Mrs. Pomeroy was one of the distinguished students and co-workers of George Adamski. In her lecture titled "Remembrance of George Adamski and His Cosmic Philosophy" and the following questions and answers session, she presented to the audience her beautiful cosmic visions and many memories of George Adamski including unknown facts. Her lecture was a strong confirmation of what Adamski had said and done.

At the General Assembly in 1987, we had Mr. Daniel Ross (the author of "UFOs and the Complete Evidence from Space"), and this year, Mrs. Pomeroy. We cherish these privileges and would like to express our great pleasure, for cosmic thought waves are universal and these waves are beginning to cover the world.

Following the Assembly, a grand dinner party was held at the Hotel Urashima. Speeches by the Representative of GAP-Japan, Hachiro Kubota and Mrs. Pomeroy at the start, followed by a lot of entertainment and accompanied with delicious meal. A large number of people from the Assembly gathered here again, and shared a wonderful time.

This annual General Assembly of GAP-Japan will be held next year again, and filled with attractions.
