My Mother's Wonderful UFO Sighting by Michel Zirger

Michel Zirger is a French UFO researcher and has been studying Adamski's books for years. As a sincere believer in Adamski's experiences, he came to Japan from France in the spring of 1994 in order to help Hachiro Kubota's Get-Acquainted Program. His speech at the 1994 GAP-Japan General Assembly held in Tokyo along with Daniel Ross was very well received by the audience.

I would like to say that I am very proud and honored to be here today speaking to all of you.

I came from France 6 months ago in order to meet my friends of GAP-Japan and to help them in their activities, or dare I say in their mission.

I would like to express my deep appreciation to all of them, especially to Takako Satsuka who has given me so much help over three last months. Thank you, Satsuka-san.

Why did I become interested in UFO's? In mid-July, 1964, my mother saw a UFO. She saw a genuine unidentified flying object at close range. But I'll get on to this in a moment. Firstly I would like to say that over the last ten years George Adamski's work has been of considerable importance to me and my interpretation of these phenomenon. I've read all that has been published by George Adamski.

I came to Japan with American edition of his works in my suitcase and with many recordings of his lectures and private talks, which I listen to often.

I first became acquainted with Mr. Kubota through Daniel Ross who gave a lecture earlier. Daniel Ross, as well as Mr. Kubota, is beyond the shadow of a doubt one of the people who best know and understand George Adamski's work.

I feel very privileged to have exchanged much correspondence with him over a period of 2 years. I have also translated his book "UFOs and the Complete Evidence from Space" into French.

Well now, to my mother's UFO experience.

On July 15, in Le Pecq near Paris, France, at about 10 in the evening, my mother was looking out of the living room window - at the same time we were living in an apartment building on the 5th floor.

From the window we could see a wide perspective with no buildings obscuring the view. The sky was not totally dark (this happened in mid-July) and there was nothing visible except perhaps some stars in the far distance.

So my mother was looking at this beautiful night sky from her living room window, when suddenly a glowing object appeared coming from her right side. This object approached at terrific speed, then stopped abruptly at about 50 meters from the window where my mother was standing.

The object was now hovering in front of her. It was a very large object. My mother told me it was, in her words, "as high as two houses floating in the sky" and it left a deep impression on her. The object was floating in front of her as if it were, to quote her again, "on an air cushion". The object was hovering noiselessly.

What impressed my mother most were the tubes of light emanating from the understructure of the object. About ten tubes of strange light were emerging from the base of the object.

Each one of them was moving up and down, slowly, very slowly. They behaved not at all like our conventional beams of light, for example beams of torch light, the electric light we know. This light appeared to be "solid", that's the reason why I call them "tubes of light", because in reality they looked like tubes.

These tubes were cut at their end. The beams did not touch the ground. They stopped in mid-air. Even our laser beams cannot behave in this way. They go straight and touch the objects they are aimed at - and don't forget that this happened in 1964.

These beams were orange in color, yet with some tones of red and yellow. This light was not our conventional electric light, either in its behaviour or in its color. It was not an earthly light.

On the cabin of the object was a row of square windows. These windows were lit from the inside by a bright yellow light. Each one of them was perfectly square in shape, like the windows of a house. The craft itself was dark metallic in color with a large dome on top; cupola.

Here is a painting depicting the UFO that my mother saw - this beautiful painting was made by Satsuka-san based on my drawing and descriptions I gave her. As you can see it was a Scout Craft-type machine.

Envelopping, encompassing the whole craft was a large halo or aura of a surreal, supernatural whitish color.

In the middle of this halo of light, the outlines of the craft were a little fuzzy - as if covered by a mist.

When my mother saw this object in front of her, she thought that her eyes were deceiving her, that she was dreaming or something. But she soon came to realize that she was observing a genuine "Flying Saucer", as we called them at the time.

She observed the craft for about one minute, then the object started to move slowly toward her left side. After moving slowly about 100 meters, the ship shot into space with a burst of speed and "vanished"; to quote my mother, "one moment the object was there, the next it had disappeared, "vanished".

It was not there any more! It was exactly as if you had turned off a TV set, the craft had literally disappeared before her eyes. Was it due to the great speed of the space ship? Or did it pass suddenly into another time dimension or something, I cannot say for sure. Anyway, it may have been due to the very great speed.

Here is the enlargement of the front cover of a French UFO magazine published in September, 1971. On this cover is reproduced the artistic interpretation of a UFO that was observed in Spain near Lake Gabriel y Galan in 1971.

As you can see this craft is of the same type as the one seen by my mother in 1964... the characteristics they share being: square windows, beams of light, a cupola and so forth...

I showed the cover of this French magazine to my mother many times. Except for a few details like, for instance, the beams of light touching the ground, this drawing matches the UFO that she saw in July, 1964 at Le Pecq, France.

Now I am sure that one big question has come to your minds: Did my mother see any beings through the windows of the craft? I naturally asked her this same question many times. Her answer has always been that she cannot remember seeing any beings behind the windows.

The windows appeared to be lit from the inside by a bright yellow light. But I should remind you that the whole craft was seen through some sort of "fog" - which is a side effect of the energy field surrounding a space craft; this energy field "causes ionization of the air immediately around the craft", to quote Daniel Ross.

So that "fog" may have kept her from seeing the pilots of this space craft.

One thing is definite: the craft came and stopped purposefully in front of her. So my guess is that someone, whoever he may be, was looking at her from the craft.

She told me about her UFO experience for the first time in 1971. And, as you can easily imagine, from 1971 to 1994, that is 23 years, we have talked a lot about her UFO sighting - and, believe me, this is an understatement. In a way, her UFO experience has become my UFO experience.

I can visualise in my mind the craft she has described to me so many times. But one important point, my mother has never really been interested in UFOs, and she has never read any books or articles on this subject. So she couldn't have invented the characteristics of the craft she described in such detail to me in 1971... for instance the mysterious and unconventional "tubes of solid light".

My mother was so moved, disturbed by this UFO experience that she tried to forget it. She had been frightened, terrified by it. She wanted to put it away in some deep dark room of her mind and forget about it, forever. Sometimes she regrets telling me about it, because her UFO experience has changed my life altogether. But she had to tell me.

Yet, at the time, in 1964, she mentioned experience to her family, to her 8 sisters, and naturally to my father... I say naturally, because my father saw the departure of the craft. But she would really have preferred to forget completely this experience which was very frightening for her.

So, that's how I got involved in the UFO field. Following this, in 1972, I read my first UFO book, and guess which one it was? It was the French translation of George Adamski and Desmond Leslie's book "Flying Saucers Have Landed".

Over the years I've read a great deal of the American and French UFO literature, including, of course, all the Adamski books.

And in 1973 I had my first UFO sighting ... here is a drawing of the UFO I saw which was published in a magazine.

In 20 years I have carefully examined and studied every aspect of G. Adamski's story, and I am totally convinced that he told us the truth, that he physically met a man from space, a Venusian... Orthon as he would call him later - at Desert Center on November 20, 1952, and that the famous, wonderful photos of the scout craft and cigar-shaped space ships that he took with his telescope from his Palomar Garden home in California are genuine.

Just before coming to Japan I had another UFO sighting. Four witnesses were with me. This UFO seemed to be following me.

And about one month ago, in Tokyo, I am thoroughly convinced that I and two close friends of mine met a woman from another planet, a space woman. This was a strange experience - I should say the strange experience of my whole life.

This happened in a restaurant while we, my friends and I, were eating and chatting. This woman was sitting at the table next to us, and she was attentively listening to our conversation. She seemed to be preoccupied by something. Her eyes focused on her glass.

Suddenly I came to realize that we might be in the presence of a woman from space. I did not talk to her. I did not dare... I just looked several times into her very strange, entrancing eyes; she was staring through me, and I definitely received what we might call a telepathic impression.

This clear telepathic message that she sent to me was some piece of advice concerning an important decision I had to make in my life on that very evening... Mr. Kubota keeps on saying that the space people are helping us. So, on that day, I could say that a space woman did help me, and that she put me back on the right track, so to speak.

I have always asked myself why a space ship - a scout craft - came hovering in front of my mother in July, 1964. Why?

I came to Japan to discover, to find out the answer. I think I now have some parts of the answer, some parts of puzzle. For example, without my mother's UFO sighting, I wouldn't have met the woman of my life, who is in the audience this afternoon.

Maybe my coming to Japan was already planned, scheduled in July, 1964... already written down somewhere. As well as my meeting with Mr. Kubota, Daniel Ross, and all my friends of GAP-Japan.

I am very glad to be here with you this afternoon. Anyway, we all are playing a role in the great Space Program. Thank you.

The Amazing Dream

by Fusako Kubota

Something interesting happened today. When I arrived home from the Tokyo GAP Seminar on the evening of the 7th of November 1993, my ninth-grade daughter, Akiko, told me that she had an amazing dream during her nap earlier that day. This is how she described her dream:

"I was on a spaceship, or something like a spaceship, flying through the galaxy. It was wonderful; the spaceship effortlessly dodged meteorites (my daughter called them "rocks") coming our way. I wore what seemed like a silver spacesuit and operated the spaceship. I remember that there were four of us - two men, one woman, and myself. The two men and women were foreigners. We ended up riding something similar to a moving sidewalk, which took us to what seemed like a glamorous hotel where a lady punched my ticket and I took a bath. While relaxing in the bath thinking, 'My day's work is done', I woke up from my dream".

My daughter realised it was a dream as she flew among many twinkling stars, beautiful beyond words, exclaiming, "How wonderful! How wonderful!"

My daughter had this dream around 3 p.m., which surprisingly, is when I happened to be listening to Mr. Kubota's lecture at the monthly Tokyo GAP Seminar.

Something even more surprising happened. When I asked my daughter if the spaceship resembled a UFO flying saucer, she replied that it wasn't round. I then asked her if it was a mother ship to which she asked, "What is a mother ship?" Since I had difficulty explaining what a mother ship is I brought out a UFO magazine and Mr. Adamski's book and showed them to my daughter. She pointed at the mother ship exclaiming, "This is it! I operated this from up front!"

Not only that, she singled out Mr. Adamski from among seven individuals pictured in a photo shown on page 16 of the Japanese edition of 'UFO Contactee' Issue 122, exclaiming, "This man was in the spaceship!"

Perhaps overcome with emotion, my daughter cried as she pointed at Mr. Adamski, explaining that he commanded the spaceship.

I told my daughter in the past that I had attended UFO meetings; however, I've never told her about Mr. Adamski, nor have I ever shown her his picture. I was amazed.

The seriousness with which my daughter told me "I really flew in space! It was very exciting and wonderful!" leads me to believe that Mr. Adamski allowed my daughter to undergo a cosmic experience.

I used to think my daughter was a strange child. She once told her teacher that she saw the golden aura. When I took her with me to Okinawa for the first time, she told me, "I was here before; I know this place." She also would tell me, "I see the same dream many times." However, after listening to my daughter today, I now believe she actually has seen things.

Mr. Adamski's book 'Science of Life' and 'Cosmic Philosophy', inspired me to join GAP-Japan. I have attended three monthly Tokyo Seminars so far.

My personal experience with UFOs happened when I was in the 9th grade. Walking home from school with a friend, I remember saying, "I wonder what that is".

I decided to write about my daughter's experience because I was quite taken by how real her experience seemed even though she knew nothing about mother ships or Mr. Adamski. My daughter feels she experienced something wonderful, although it might have only been a dream, and although I might be the only one with whom she can share the dream.

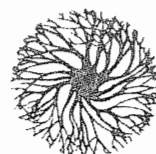

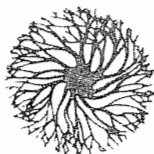

I can almost feel and see something when I remind myself that the universe consists of wave motions invisible to the eye and that all things created lively within this universe.

Since reading Mr. Adamski's books I've centered life around cosmic consciousness; I feel tranquil, as if everything moves peacefully in a circle. I would like for me and my daughter to live each passing day conscious of the universe. (Editor's note: The writer is a member of GAP-Japan. Not H.Kubota's wife)

Questions & Answers

by George Adamski

This Q & A was published by George Adamski in 1957 and sent to his co-workers all over the world. This contains much valuable information on UFO issues even now. (Editor, Uc)

Q71. Do the people of other worlds pray as we do?

A: No; not in the personal supplication that I have heard so many times throughout my life. For people who have even a small understanding of their relationship to the Cosmos, desire only that their personalities obey the real of themselves - the Christ within. These people will live in compassionate humility at all times, both in respect to their fellowman and to their Creator. The prayer Jesus gave us is an example of this, but how many people repeat it with real understanding? Yet, there is a wealth of wisdom contained in those few words.

Our neighbors in space look upon themselves and their fellowmen as children of the Infinite Father, as explained in INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS. With this understanding, their daily living is a continuous prayer that they may be obedient children in all their ways. It was this attitude to which Jesus referred when He said, "Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein," Luke 18:17.

Q72. Where can I start to improve and change my way of living?

A: Right with your own thoughts and daily actions. Remember, each individual is a radiating center of influence, whose ultimate circumference no one can accurately perceive. Watch your thoughts and see if they are of the type you really desire to entertain. If not, change them to conform with your better aspirations. Become the master of your mind ... not its slave.

Watch your attitude toward others - business contacts, friends, stranger, members of your own family. Are you polite to some, tolerant toward others, and argumentative with those closest to you? or are you compassionate and kind to all alike?

The world as a whole is composed of billions of individuals, each of whom is important as a radiating center of action. And the whole cannot be changed unless, and until, each small part is brought into cooperation and harmonious coordination with all others. In the human family, we know this as the Brotherhood of Man.

Q73. Do you know anything about the "Mystery Death Rays in Space" reported by Earth's artificial satellite?

A: Yes. This is what the Brothers referred to on pages 92, 152, and 153 of INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, when they spoke of the abnormal conditions within our atmosphere. This is not a natural state, but one which has been built up within our Ionosphere through exploding the nuclear bombs. It has continued to grow in depth with each explosion; and little by little is falling back to Earth.

Long before the detonation of the first atomic bomb our scientists were studying the natural cosmic rays coming from space. Their research had proved that under certain conditions these rays could be deadly; but normally their harmful effects were filtered out by their passage through our atmosphere. However, exploding the first nuclear bomb started an artificial barrier against the customary free flow of these rays, and each succeeding detonation has added to its depth until now the cosmic rays must hammer their way through this artificial barrier of radiation. This results in sporadic break-throughs of such high concentrations of cosmic rays, that our atmosphere cannot filter out all the harmful natural radiation coming to us from space.

This barrier of radiation of our own making, could be compared to a dam with a large body of water behind it. When the first small fissure appears in the dam, the weight of the stored-up water will rush through with unnatural force. The same principle applies to the cosmic rays breaking through the radiation clouds with which we have surrounded our planet at the present time. As a result, our atmosphere is being polluted by these natural forces of space, as well as by the nuclear bombs that have been, and are still being, exploded around the world. This is an abnormal condition of our own making ... only we can change it. But were we to ban all future nuclear tests, it still would take years for the atmosphere to clear.

Q74. Can we avert the disastrous twisters that seem to be increasing in violence and numbers?

A: No. These are conditions of Nature, and man has no right to try to interfere. The results might be more disastrous than the twisters.

According to an article appearing in the April 1958 Reader's Digest, these tornados are caused by the fluctuation of the Polar Jet stream that flows across the United States. When this Jet stream shifts to the south at just the right time to encounter moist tropical air moving north from the Gulf of Mexico, it will spawn tornados until equilibrium is once more restored to the upper level atmosphere.

These violent disturbances of nature are not peculiar to our world; they occur on all planets. The difference between the peoples of Earth and those of our neighboring planets, is that we are just beginning to learn about these rivers of air circling our globe, while they have carefully plotted the movement of the air streams surrounding their worlds. Although this study is still in its infancy on Earth, we are making strides in evaluating this information.

Therefore, it is unfortunate that the people disregard the warnings given by the official Weather Bureau who, through their observations of changing conditions in the upper atmosphere, are able to accurately forecast these disastrous winds dipping to Earth. Quite often our newspapers are filled with tragedies which could have been averted had the inhabitants obeyed instructions and moved out of the threatened areas.

Our neighbors in space understand these acts of Nature and, as do our Indians who live close to her, heed the danger signals and move from the territory to be affected. But remember, these disturbances are natural phenomena, which we do not yet fully understand.

Q75. Our scientists claim both Jupiter and Saturn are surrounded by dense gases. Does this mean the people there live underground? or are the gases high enough above the planets not to endanger life?

A: The people on all the planets in our system live on the surface of their worlds, just as we do on Earth. In fact, I doubt very much if there is a planet where the inhabitants live "underground". For remember, as the Brothers explained when they denied the existence of the Dero's and Tero's, the life-giving powers of the sun in a system are essential to sustain all life.

When we finally succeed in traveling outer space, we will find that our present instruments are incapable of detecting conditions even a short distance beyond the fringe of a planet's atmosphere. Then, we will awaken to the inadequacy of the implements upon which we have based so many of the theories that we now teach as fact. For instance, the space people have told me that even with their advanced instruments, it is necessary for them to get well within the protective shield of a planet's Ionosphere before they can make accurate atmospheric readings.

So when the time comes that we are able to journey within the Ionosphere of our neighboring planets, many of our learned savants will be surprised at how closely atmospheric conditions there resemble those of Earth.

Q76. Have you been told what makes the rings around Saturn?

A: Strange as it may seem from what we are able to see of these "rings" through our telescopes, I have been told that what appears to us as rings around Saturn is in reality an electro-magnetic field encompassing the planet. There is a great deal of activity throughout this entire field, and because the "rings" or "belt" contains much moisture as well as particles of various sizes, this combination reflects the colors we often observe around that planet. This illusion is similar to the one obtained when the sun shines through a spray of water, creating what we call a rainbow. For remember, the body of Saturn or any other planet, does not cast off light; but what we see is a reflection of the sun's rays striking that planet.

In ancient times Saturn was depicted as the Tribunal planet, symbolized as the scale or balance. This is understandable when we consider its position in the system. Saturn is in the sixth orbit from the sun; the seventh body of the system. Since there are twelve planets in our system and a central sun - a total of thirteen bodies - Saturn actually is the center, or balancer, with six bodies on either side.

Q77. Do people live on the moons of Jupiter and Saturn?

A: The people I have met from these planets live on the home bodies. At no time during the many meetings I have had with dwellers from either planet, have they mentioned native inhabitants on their moons. I would surmise, if there are people living on the moons of these worlds, they are there as caretakers and workers for the space craft bases; many of which undoubtedly are located on these natural satellites. Are we not planning to constructing bases on our moon in preparation for ventures further out into space?

I know there have been innumerable reports of communications being received from people living on the moons of both Jupiter and Saturn; but these mediumistic "messages", and the information they contain, never have been verified by the Brothers. From all that I have been able to learn from the space people with whom I continue to have meetings, there is no foundation of reality in either these messages or their claimed sources. They fall into the same category as others received in this manner; containing personalities, divisions and discriminations. A full explanation of the origin of these confused ideas and how reception of them is possible, is given in my course on Telepathy.

Q78. Has the symbol message which appeared in FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED been translated yet?

A: Yes. I have received one rather complete translation which has been approved by the Brothers. It is entirely scientific in nature. The man who succeeded in doing this decoding, unscrambled the symbols and rearranged them, much as one would work a jigsaw puzzle. In this way he was able to construct a diagram of a scout ship; then, using the symbols on the dropped negative and those in the footprints, he worked out a design for the power action by which the ships are propelled.

He has sent me several drawings showing his progress step by step with the symbols, and the conclusions he has reached. Some of these I have incorporated into my movie on space craft. Other translations have been published, but this is the only one that I can endorse; because it is the only one on which I have secured full verification from those who gave me the symbols.

Numerous interpretations of the symbols have been received through mediumistic channels, but to date all of these have proved inaccurate. They have been filled with personalities and false prophecies, neither of which have any connection with the information given in these symbols, according to the Brothers.

Should further correct translations come to us, I shall share the knowledge as the opportunity affords.

Q79. A minister says I am not saved because I do not attend his church. Can you explain this matter of being saved?

A: This question reminds me of an experience I once had. A minister traveled all the way up the mountain to tell me that he was going to pray for me, that I might be saved. I listened attentively to all he had to say, then asked, "How can you save that which has never been lost?"

His first reaction to my question was that I was being blasphemous, and his features portrayed vividly the turmoil in his mind. I waited quietly until his composure had been restored, then inquired,

"Do you preach on Sundays?"

"I do," he said.

"And do you tell your people that God is All in all? That outside of God there is nothing?"

"That is correct," he affirmed.

I continued, "When you thought of me as being lost, I had to be something to be lost. Isn't that right?"

"Certainly," he nodded vigorously.

"Thus," I concluded, "if I am something - and outside of God there is nothing - then tell me ... where am I?"

He had no answer to this.

Q80. If our ancestors were discarded from other planets, what hope is there for us on Earth today?

A: Every hope in the Universe. Each individual lives his own life, makes his own future destiny, and writes his own history. In the Cosmic Plan no man is ever left stranded without hope. Once the desire is awakened in a man's heart for a better understanding of himself, his purpose for being, and his relationship to the Cosmic All, the way is always opened for him to attain this goal.

Our ancestry has no bearing upon what we are today. Our parents have merely served as a birth channel for us to enter the world, but what we make of our lives after we are here is up to us. This is an individual matter each must solve for himself. But I assure you, our long dead ancestors have no influence upon our lives today unless we bestow this power upon them by continually looking to the past ... rather than to the present.

Jesus conveyed the philosophy of this Cosmic Truth to His disciples very simply when He said, "Follow me; and let the dead bury their dead." Matt. 8:22

Q81. How do reports from the satellites on findings in space compare with what you have learned from the Brothers?

A: As this data is released, information published in 1953 in my section of FLYING SAUCERS HAVE LANDED, that published in 1955 in my book INSIDE THE SPACE SHIPS, and what I have given in this series of Questions and Answers is being confirmed. Following are a few excerpts from some of the published reports.

From the Los Angeles Times, April 8, 1958

Quote: Cambridge, Mass., April 7 (AP) - A Harvard astrophysicist, applying a new formula to data available by America's first satellite, Explorer I, reported today the earth's atmosphere 229 miles up is 14 times as dense as pre-satellite Air Force studies indicated.

The findings of Prof. Theodore E. Sterne, an associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory confirms a forecast of high-altitude atmosphere densities based on early Sputnik data.

Published December 31 (1957)

The Sputnik studies made by Dr. Sterne, Dr. Gehard Shilling and Miss B. M. Folkar were published December 31, by the Smithsonian Observatory.

They indicated that at 137 miles above the earth the atmosphere was nine times denser than the Air Force estimates had indicated.

While describing the Air Force pre-satellite "model atmosphere" as a product of one of the most careful speculative studies ever made, Dr. Sterne commented it "now seems to have underestimated the actual densities at such great altitudes." Unquote.

From "Introduction to Outer Space," by the President's (Eisenhower) Science Advisory Committee, Los Angeles Times, March 27, 1958.

Quote: "The satellite's immediate environment at the edge of space is empty only by earthly standards. Actually, 'empty' space is rich in energy, radiation and fast moving particles of great variety. Here we will be exploring the active medium, a kind of electrified plasma, dominated by the sun, through which our earth moves."

"Scientists have indirect evidence that there are vast systems of magnetic fields and electric currents that are connected somehow with the outward flow of charged material from the sun." Unquote.

While the August News-letter of The Interplanetary Foundation in Royal Oak, Michigan, states, Quote: IT HAS RECENTLY BEEN DISCOVERED by observations made by Russian "Sputniks" through spectroscopic studies that the Earth has no oxygen in its atmosphere. Unquote.

Since we know that there is oxygen in our atmosphere supporting life-forms of all kinds, including human beings, this latter statement is particularly interesting. Here is verification of the information given to me by the Brothers, and contained in Question 75 - that it is impossible to obtain an accurate reading of atmospheric conditions around any planet from outside that planet's ionosphere.

The Conference of Friends of Adamski

An epoch-making Conference was held by Mr. Bill Sherwood of Rochester UFO Study Group in Washington D.C. 8th through 10th September, 1995. This international meeting was planned by Mr. Sherwood who was a good friend of George Adamski's to celebrate the memory of the great contactee.

Many researchers of Adamski's experiences and his cosmic philosophy met at the hall of the Holiday Inn Hotel, and gave lectures for three days. They were: Hachiro Kubota (GAP-Japan), Hans Petersen (GAP-Europe, Denmark), Glen Steckling (George Adamski Foundation, USA), Alice Pomeroy (Adamski's student, USA), Madeline Rodfer (Adamski's friend, USA), Joan Laurino (Researcher of Adamski's cosmic philosophy, USA) and others.

Hachiro Kubota made a speech titled "George Adamski and GAP-Japan" for 1 and a half hours and gave a slide show for 30 minutes on the evening of 9th, and received the applause of the all attendees. Many members of GAP-Japan including Michel Zirger and his wife Takako attended the Conference to support Kubota.

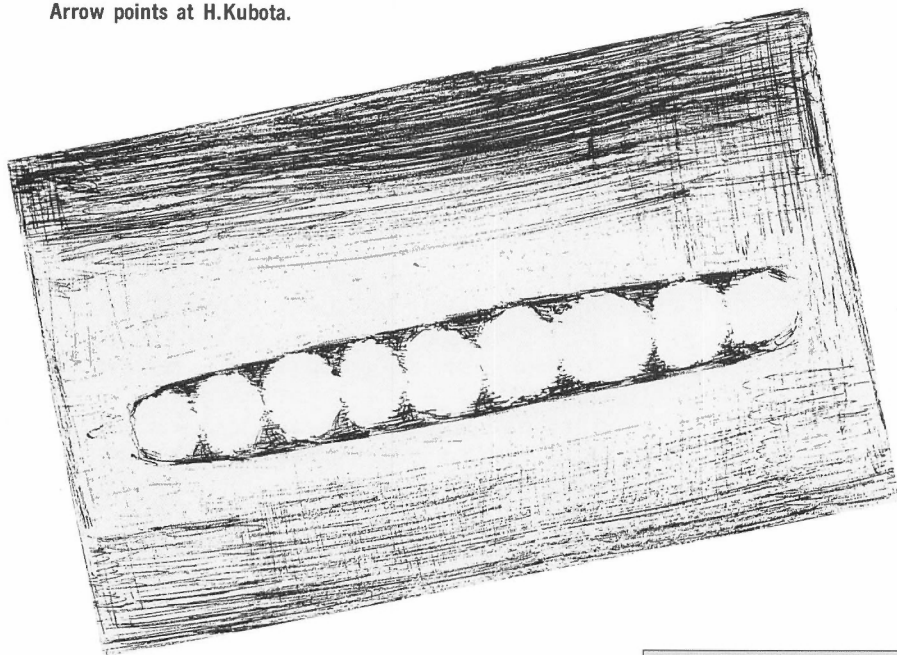

On the 10th, some Japanese members and Kubota saw a giant mother ship and small scout ships hovering over the city and took pictures of them.

On the 11th, they moved to New York City and witnessed a few white UFOs flying over the city at the observation platform of the Empire State Building, and photographs of them were taken by some of the members along with Kubota. On the night of the day, some young Japanese members saw a gigantic mother ship flying over New York City! This ship bore many startling resemblances to the Venusian mother ship in the photograph that Adamski took with his 6 inch telescope on Mt. Palomar on May 1, 1952, according to the witnesses. Were space people watching GAP-Japan?
